COOK IS WANTED IN VILLA'S TENT.

Italian Chef Forsakes His Chief as American Shell Goes Sh-i-i-i-i."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO, June 20.—Villa is without a cook, Pascual Casaretti, an Italian who has been with Villa since he started his present campaign, crossed the border Monday and today was arraigned before a United States commissioner charged with violating the passport law.

Casaretti said he was with Villa when American artillery first fired into Mexico last Sunday night.

"We were under a tree about a mile from the race track," he said. "The single cannon in Fort Hidalgo had just fired a solid shot which hit in the field near by. We all laughed at this. That cannon only said 'boom' and hurt nobody.

"Then we heard something down near the American border go 'boom' and there was a long 'sh-i-i-i-i' ending with a 'bang' right close by.

"'Los Americanos,' Villa shouted and galloped away toward the mountains."

FIVE INJURED, TWO PERHAPS FATALLY.

Two auto accidents which occurred early this morning just outside the city limits resulted in two probable fatalities and three other persons receiving painful injuries.

While coming from Long Beach, the machines of Chris Uris of 304 North Pecan street and Otto Deigman of 1621 East Thirty-eighth street collided about eight miles from the city limits. Uris and a companion, Mike Jeran of 1016 East First street, were thrown to the ground and rendered unconscious. When the University police ambulance took the men to the Receiving Hospital it was found that both were suffering from probable basal skull fractures and serious internal injuries.

When the machines of C. R. Redfern of the Bush Hotel and J. S. Le Brecht of 538 South Flower street came together in a head-on collision on Washington boulevard, near Culver City, a companion of Redfern, Albert Daley, was thrown from the machine, receiving a ten-inch laceration of the left leg, which may necessitate amputation. With Le Brecht was his wife, Mrs. Louise Le Brecht, and H. C. Brent of the Morgan Hotel. All received numerous cuts and lacerations from a broken windshield and were given medical attention at the Receiving Hospital by Dr. Crossan.

FATALLY INJURED IN THREE-STORY FALL.

J. N. Norris, a mechanic of Long Beach, received fatal injuries late last night when he fell from a third-story window of a rooming-house at 120 Winston street. At the Receiving Hospital it was found that he was suffering from a broken spine, broken left leg, four fractured ribs and both feet broken. He was immediately sent to the County Hospital, where doctors state that he cannot live. Norris lived at 628 State street, Long Beach.

LOWDEN-FOR-PRESIDENT CAMPAIGN IS LAUNCHED.

Hamilton Club, Chicago, Formally Shies Hat of Illinois Governor into Ring for Republican Nomination.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, June 20.—Gov. Frank O. Lowden's candidacy for the Republican nomination for President was launched at the Hamilton Club today. In order to get around the inhibition in the club's bylaws that it shall not take sides in primary contests, the leading members of the big Republican organization formed the "Hamilton Club Lowden League."

After electing officers and much oratory extolling Lowden's availability and fitness for the job, formal resolutions were adopted, sending the message to the nation, as they put it, that the Illinois Governor is the one man on whom all factions of the party can unite.

With the ice now broken, the club promoters propose to make the Lowden league the nucleus of a nation-wide movement among Republican clubs in booming the Illinois Governor for President.

The resolutions, which, it is proposed, shall form the basis of the Lowden propaganda, were drawn by Robert S. Iles, chairman; Elmer D. Brothers, E. A. Munger and William J. Prindle. They are as follows:

"As members of the Hamilton Club of Chicago, we reaffirm our faith in the soundness of the system of government wrought by the fathers of America and set forth in the Federal Constitution.

"We believe that Frank O. Lowden stands for those principles which we regard as so necessary today to the welfare and happiness of the American people.

"It is our belief that Frank O. Lowden can and will unite us in this time of national emergency upon those fundamentals which make us all Republicans.

"His patriotic record as Governor of Illinois appeals to all Americans regardless of party, and has been one of conspicuous achievement. It has been constructive, businesslike and progressive, and has shown him to be possessed of administrative and executive ability of the highest order.

"The foremost need of the country is the application of sound, well-considered, constructive business methods in the national government as it enters upon the period of reconstruction. Gov. Lowden has fully demonstrated his fitness to meet these requirements not alone as an executive and legislator, but as a business man and farmer. No man can more fully understand American life, ideals and needs than this farmer boy of Minnesota, who worked his way through school and college in Iowa and became the chief executive of Illinois.

"The Republican National Convention should choose as its standard bearer a candidate who can command the support of all factions of the party. Gov. Lowden can do this.

"His record of progressive achievements as chief executive of Illinois has endeared him to the forward looking people of the nation. He enjoyed the life-long love and confidence of Theodore Roosevelt, and possesses the esteem of Republican leaders throughout the nation.

"We, therefore, form ourselves into the Hamilton Club Lowden League for the purpose of urging Gov. Lowden to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for President of the United States."

Col. William G. Edens was elected president of the Lowden boomers' organization with A. N. Marquis, president of the Hamilton Club, honorary president. Henry C. Morris was chosen secretary, and W. M. Richards, treasurer.

Among the vice-presidents, who said they are ready to go forth and spread the Lowden gospel throughout the country, are:

Judge John H. Batten, Foster S. Nims, John F. Voight, R. W. Dunn, Rev. R. A. White, John C. Armstrong, H. E. Sever, John T. Richards, Henry R. Rathbone, Elmer D. Brothers, Charles J. O'Connor, Leroy T. Steward, W. F. Olds, S. A. Harper, W. A. Leonard, Oliver G. Cammeron, Ninian H. Welch, George T. Buckingham, Wirt E. Humphrey, W. S. Barbee, S. T. Messervey, Robert S. Iles, Fred L. Rossbach, W. W. Edwards, Albert Clark.

The Executive Committee was announced as follows: Thomas D. Knight, chairman; F. B. Colliver, William G. Edens, Alfred S. Adams, Edwin A. Munger, Albert H. Gates, George W. Dixon, Robert S. Iles, Archibald McLeish and Guy Guernsey.

Chairmen of the following committees also were made public:

Finance, George W. Dixon; Publicity, Thomas D. Knight; Banquet, Edwin A. Munger; Speakers, Alfred S. Adams; Organizations, Guy Guernsey; Membership, Albert R. Gates, Nonresident Membership, F. B. Colliver; Ways and Means, Archibald McLeish; Resolutions, Robert S. Iles; Nominating Committee, Henry L. Hertz, Joseph H. Barnett and Clark S. Reed.

The speakers brought out the fact that Gov. Lowden was selected by the friends of Col. Roosevelt to be one of the principal speakers at the Roosevelt memorial services at the Auditorium, and emphasized the high regard in which he was held by Col. Roosevelt, as indicating the position Lowden occupies among the leaders of the Progressive party of 1912. They cited this as evidence of the especial availability of the Illinois Governor in the matter of bringing the old factions together and presenting a solid front to the enemy in 1920. No other man, they declared, can weld the wings together so easily as Lowden, and if the Republican party leaders want to present a solid phalanx in the campaign next year they will immediately line up behind the "greatest Governor Illinois ever had."

It is proposed to push the propaganda work with vigor and hold a large meeting immediately after July 4 to which Republicans generally will be invited to help give the Lowden movement a big send-off.

Among those who attended the meeting today and signed up as charter members, besides the officers and committeemen named, were:

Samuel Erickson, John T. Richards, Alfred S. Adams, L. H. Wilson, Henry R. Rathbone, William R. T. Owen Ewen, Charles G. Blake, William N. Gemmill, William A. Leonard, Foster H. Nims and Clark S. Reed.

HUN-BRANDS ACCUSERS.

Palmer Says Foe Inspires Attack.

Attorney-General Refutes the Charges Made by Senator Frelinghuysen.

Senate Inquiry Into Alien Property Custodian's Office Acrimonious.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Atty.-Gen. Palmer, at the first public hearing in the fight to prevent confirmation by the Senate of his appointment, turned sharply today upon his accusers and boldly charged that they were aligned with German interests in a concerted attempt to discredit his administration as Alien Property Custodian.

During the year and a half he was in charge of the office, Mr. Palmer declared, he had been denounced by every enemy alien and every friend and attorney of every enemy alien in this country, and that in Berlin he was characterized as the "official American pickpocket." Every friend of the 40,000 aliens whose property had been seized was attacking him, he said, because his organization had seized enemy property and captured the German industrial army in the United States. It would be shown, he told the committee, that the particular charges lodged against him were not based on the ground that he had sold enemy plants at too low a price, but that he had sold them to Americans, who had turned them to profitable account.

BITTER FEELING.

For nearly five hours the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee, conducting an open inquiry at the request of the Attorney-General, was in a continued snarl.

The bitter feeling remained to the end, the meeting closing abruptly and in disorder, with the announcement another session would be held tomorrow. There was a strong belief at the Capitol tonight that no further hearings of consequence would be held, and that the committee would recommend confirmation of Mr. Palmer's appointment.

The first evidence of bitterness was displayed at the very outset, when Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, charged Merton E. Lewis, formerly Attorney-General of New York, with deceiving the committee last week through failure to quote all the sections of the law bearing on the right of the Alien Property Custodian to seize enemy property. Mr. Lewis, who is counsel for Harvey T. Andrews, the principal complainant, frankly stated that he had been in error and that he had come prepared to offer his apologies. Senator Walsh retorted that, while he accepted the statement without reservation, Mr. Lewis had realized that the committee thereafter could not rely on anything he said.

Frequently during the presentation by Mr. Lewis of documentary evidence he clashed with Mr. Palmer, and no effort apparently was made by either to conceal his feeling of hostility.

It was near the close of the session the Attorney-General came to an open breach with Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican, of New Jersey, leader in the fight to prevent confirmation of his nomination. Mr. Palmer was proceeding to take up charges as to the alleged placing of friends in positions where they might profit by the sale of enemy property, and had just stated that these charges were made by Senator Frelinghuysen and others, when the Senator jumped to his feet. For an instant he and the Attorney-General glared at each other.

"You can't bluff me like that," the Senator shouted. "I am a Senator of the United States, and I demand that Mr. Palmer answer criticisms of his administration brought before the committee in a proper way."

NO BLUFF, SAYS PALMER.

The Attorney-General snapped back that he was not trying to bluff anybody. "However," he added, "I will answer and leave Mr. Frelinghuysen's name out of it."

When Mr. Palmer concluded his two-hour statement, Senator Frelinghuysen told the committee if it decided to go into the investigation of the Alien Property Custodian's office he would present witnesses in support of charges against his administration. Complaints had come to him from some of his constituents, he said.

Mr. Palmer came back with the assertion that Senator Frelinghuysen had visited New York detective agencies to find out if "they did not have something on Palmer." He accused the Senator of making statements to newspapers regarding charges against him. Lewis and Andrews also were accused of giving out statements purporting to be evidence and distorting the facts.

ENTENTE LANDING PARTIES READY.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HAMBURG (Germany) June 18, via Paris, June 20.—British and French ships lying in the harbor of Hamburg are ready to send landing parties ashore if the German government does not sign the treaty. But there is the same indifference here as in the Ruhr district. I saw parties of French and British sailors wandering around Hamburg this afternoon looking in the shop windows and drinking beer in the cafes. Nobody was cross with them, despite the fact that the same lads are likely to appear in the streets in a few days with rifles and machine guns.

I saw the London papers this morning which spoke of mysterious signalling along the right bank of the Rhine, and that observers in the British occupied zones reported machinery and other property being hastily taken from Essen and other cities of the Ruhr Valley. I was in Ruhr for four days, and have not observed anyone taking away goods or chattels or the "mysterious signals" at night.

In Essen 34,000 men are working at the big Krupp plant, almost the same number as was employed before the war. The Krupp plant is able to work because it has the raw materials, but the big textile firms of Eiberfeld and Bremen are idle, awaiting materials from America. The Krupps have discontinued making guns and munitions at present, and are devoting their attention to locomotive and car building and repairing.

This morning coming from Dusseldorf to Hamburg, at Mulheim, Essen and Bochum, the steel and iron mills are working, and the air is as thick with smoke and cinders as Pittsburgh at its best.

LOOK LIGHTLY ON INVASION.

The people I met here who are opposed to signing the treaty think America will not send many men into the Army of Occupation, and that England will not take much interest, leaving the job to France and Belgium, which, the Germans say, will result in the Entente troops being spread so thinly over a large area it will be a farce. The newspapers every day devote a front page to the strike in France, from which they obtain much comfort. They are certain within a few months all Entente countries will be turning upside down with labor trouble, and the treaty then will be more to their liking.

Since the Entente reply to the German counter-proposal the government has been recruiting work for an army of 300,000. Posters in the windows, billboards and the great number of recruiting sergeants on the streets is reminiscent of war times.

Yesterday Dusseldorf was entirely indifferent to the peace treaty. The only crowds I saw were those around the billboards carrying flam-

Equal World's Records

COLOMBES (France) Thursday, June 19.—Two world's records made at the St. Louis games in 1904 were equaled by American athletes in the inter-Allied tryouts today. Archie Hahn's long-standing mark of 21⅘ seconds for the 200-meter dash was tied by Lieut. C. W. Paddock, University of Southern California, while in the 200-meter low hurdles Sylvester, University of Missouri, beat by a small margin his cousin, Robert Simpson of the same college, who holds the world's record for the 120-yard hurdles. In this event Sylvester equaled the world's record of 24⅘ seconds. Eddie Tescher of Harvard, A.E.F. sprint champion, sprang a surprise by defeating Sol Butler, negro sprinter from Dubuque College, in the 100-meter dash. Butler, however, came back strong, winning with 23 feet ⅝ inch the broad jump from Harry Worthington, American national champion.

For Tariff Revision

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Hearings looking toward a general revision of the tariff will be started by the House Ways and Means Committee soon after July 4, Chairman Fordnew of the committee announced today at the close of hearings on the request of the potash and dye industries for protection. Mr. Fordney said the committee proposes to go extensively and exhaustively into the whole subject with a view to drafting a bill revising the tariff in accordance with the campaign promises of the Republican majority in Congress.

Want Huns Out Quick

BERLIN, June 20.—Gen. Nudant, representative of Marshal Foch at Spa, in a note addressed to the German armistice commission on behalf of the Allied and associated powers, requested the German government today to take the most speedy measures, first, to prevent any advance of German troops northward in the direction of Esthonia, and, second, to bring about the immediate evacuation of Windau and Libau and the speediest possible evacuation of all territories which before the war were part of the Russian empire.

Arkansas Drys Win

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) June 20.—Circuit Judge G. W. Hendricks today held that voters of Arkansas have not the right to pass on the action of the recent Arkansas Legislature in ratifying the prohibition amendment to the Federal Constitution. He sustained the demurrer of Atty.-Gen. Arnuckle to the petition asking for a referendum on the action of the Legislature.

Los Angeles Man Victim?

CHICAGO, June 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The body of an aged, well-dressed man was washed up by Lake Michigan during the day near Evanston, Ill. In his clothing was a receipt bearing the name of Louis Malacek, on one side of which the name of the Angelus Hotel, Los Angeles, appeared. A card bearing the name of the Hotel Woodlawn, Los Angeles, also was found in the clothing. He had in his pockets a gold watch and $6. No marks of violence were found on the body and the police believe that death was accidental. Laundry marks appearing to be "J.C.17" were found on the collar and handkerchief.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT AT AN ALL-NIGHT SESSION THAT PACT IS ACCEPTED

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE LOS ANGELES TIMES.]

[Copyright, 1919, by the Chicago Tribune Company.]

COBLENZ, June 20.—Germany has decided to sign the peace treaty. This decision was reached at Weimar at an all-night conference between Herr Scheidemann and other Cabinet leaders and a majority of the coalition leaders.

This information comes from an official announcement.

After Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau had spoken bitterly against accepting the treaty, the Cabinet went into session with the leaders of the majority Socialist, Centrum and the Social Democratic parties. The Cabinet was against signing by a small majority.

Party leaders then convinced the members of the Cabinet that a large percentage of their delegates favored signing. The Cabinet then resigned without asking for a vote of confidence. President Ebert will ask Herr Noske or Mathias Erzberger to form a new Cabinet.

Erzberger will succeed Brockdorff-Rantzau as head of the German peace delegates.

In its deliberations the Cabinet took into consideration a letter from Gen. Von Hindenburg urging the government to make peace at once.

PARIS, June 20.—The Temps understands that Mathias Erzberger, if he takes power in Germany, will ask two modifications of the peace treaty. The first will be the toning down of the clause concerning responsibility for the war so as to spare German susceptibilities, and the second, abandonment of prosecution of the former Emperor.

PARIS, June 20.—The news of the political changes in Germany was made known to the American delegation while it was meeting with President Wilson. It caused considerable satisfaction and was interpreted as an indication that Germany will accept the treaty.

The selection of Noske to head the new Cabinet, if the report is confirmed, is a surprising factor, as he had been regarded as an opponent of signing.

EBERT TO RETAIN OFFICE TEMPORARILY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WEIMAR (via Amsterdam to London) June 20.—The German Cabinet headed by Philipp Scheidemann has resigned. The Cabinet will continue in office temporarily.

President Ebert also will remain in office temporarily, it was said here today, in connection with the changes in the German government. The portfolio of Mathias Erzberger in the new Cabinet to be formed will be: "Minister of Reconstruction and Fulfillment of the Treaty."

A poll of the members of the various parties in the National Assembly seems to show that the peace terms cannot fail to be accepted. The majority Socialists, it is added, gave a considerable majority in favor of signing.

SIX, INCLUDING RANTZAU, WOULD REJECT TERMS.

Six members of the Cabinet, it is said, declared in a Cabinet meeting for an absolute rejection of the peace terms. The ministers were said to have been Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, Landsberg, Giesberts, Dr. Dernburg, Preuss and Gothein.

Weimar last night was completely cut off from railway communication with all sections of Germany because of a suddenly called railway strike. Airplanes and the telegraph are the only means of communication. Government circles see in the strike a new Spartacan attempt against the government.

[If the National Assembly at Weimar has taken the action reported above, it has passed upon the peace treaty a day earlier than last direct advices from Germany had indicated.]

NOSKE NOW HUN HEAD.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

COBLENZ, June 20. — Gustav Noske, the Minister of Defense, will succeed Philipp Scheidemann as head of the German ministry, according to a Weimar dispatch received here today. Mathias Erzberger of the German armistice commission, will succeed Count von Brockdorf-Rantzau as Foreign Secretary, the message adds.

Four members of the old German Cabinet favored acceptance of the revised peace terms, according to the correspondent of the Cologne Zeitung, telegraphing from Weimar. They were Mathias Erzberger, Johannes Bell, Gustav Noske and Eduard David.

WASHINGTON NOT SURPRISED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Fall of the German Cabinet was not unexpected by officials here, who said today they had had information that a coalition Cabinet of Socialists and Independent Socialists was to be formed.

FOCH PLANS COMPLETE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, June 20.—The Supreme Council confirmed today the plans made by the military authorities for a resumption of the advance into Germany in the event of the failure of the Germans to sign the peace treaty within the allotted time.

Marshal Foch, Maj.-Gen. Bliss, Gen. Robertson of the British army and other military chiefs were before the council this afternoon and explained the details of the Allied plans. The reports of the fall of the Scheidemann government had not reached the council when these plans were discussed.

It is not expected the order for the Allied armies to advance will be given exactly at the time of the expiration of the time limit of the Allies, but it was indicated today that there would be little delay, if any, in the maneuvers.

Baron Sonnino was not present at the meeting of the council, but the fact that Gen. Cavallero was called in was regarded as indicating that the Allies still regard Italy's position as not materially changed by the overthrow of the Orlando government.

CASA BDANCA (Morocco) Thursday, June 19.—Lieut. Lemaitre and Adjt. Guignard, French aviators attempting a flight from Paris to Agadir, Dakar, arrived here at 5 o'clock this evening and will start for Agadir Saturday. The airmen left Paris Wednesday morning.

Noske's Guards are Prepared to Put Down Any Treaty Disorders.

REVOLUTION IS FACING BERLIN.

Noske Expected to go to Extreme to Hold Control.

Demonstration Against Americans Seems Certain.

Allies' "No" to Counter-Demands is Withheld.

BY PARKE BROWN.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, June 17 (via Paris, June 20.)—How they brought the news from Versailles to Berlin—the "thumbs down" decision, they call it there—is not a stirring tale of reckless speed, of breathless anxiety or of an outburst of long-pent-up emotion.

It is a plain, unvarnished recital of mechanical transmission of the message from one group of officials to another, which then quietly retired behind closed doors, outside of which the populace went about its business undisputed and deliberately. It is a story of the characteristic, war-worn, Bolshevist-torn Germany of today.

There were predictions that the newspapers of the Independent Socialists and Communists with Spartacan characteristics will appear immediately and begin an attack on Ebert-Scheidemann-Noske control, and will bring about demonstrations. Everywhere it is believed they are renewing their secret activity, and trucks are ready to race to the scene of the trouble.

DEMONSTRATIONS EXPECTED.

If disorder comes a demonstration against the Americans in Hotel Adlon and release of Russians from prison camps at some distant points are considered certain. Plans for withdrawing these men, if ever Germany refuses to sign and the Allied armies advance, are said to be ready, but it is unconfirmed officially.

Other indications are that by next week, at the latest, Berlin will again be torn by disturbances and even by riots of a revolutionary nature. Some of the conservative business men see no chance of avoiding bloodshed.

The Noske government stands ready to go to the extreme to maintain control. Just now a band marched down Unter den Linden for the daily change of sentries, and for an ocular demonstration of the military force to be used against rioters. Machine guns are not placed, but they are handy for use on a moment's notice. Also, the field pieces, some of which were seen recently in the Thiergarten mounted on trucks, are ready for action.

Here sixteen hours after Paris heard the "No" of the Allies, Berlin, except for a mere handful of men, knows nothing of the crisis. It has heard by word of mouth that the answer is an almost flat rejection of the counter proposals, but there are no details. Each party and each faction is waiting for its leaders to speak.

ATTRIBUTED TO STRIKE.

The situation is due almost entirely to the newspaper strike, which the Ebert-Scheidemann government contends was called at this crisis as a scheme of the independents to pave the way to force a retirement of the Socialist Democrats and to seize the railways of the government. According to theory the administration has arranged to bring 1,000,000 copies of papers from near-by cities and to present the facts and its side of the situation.

But the strike does not tell the whole story. Any great American city would have demanded the news immediately and in some way would have received it before this, but maybe it will be another day before Berlin, as a whole, gets the facts.

As the crucial moment approached yesterday afternoon there were some telephone messages to Spa from the Foreign Office. A question was raised whether or not the answer of the big four was to be sent directly to Weimar, where the entire cabinet and general assembly was waiting, or to the government here for transmission to Weimar. The decision was in favor of the latter procedure.

It was estimated telegraphic communication would be opened with Versailles between 10 and 11 at night. Then the government offices were to be closed, except for a clerk or two, until the time arrived. Arrangements were made for extra telegraphic service and promises made to the press of copies of the text to be issued as soon as received.

LITTE INTEREST IN NEWS.

Only a section chief or two represented the government when shortly before 11 the instruments began to click in the offices at Behren street of the peace bureau, headed by Count von Bernstorff, who, with his principal aide, now is in Weimar. A few clerks and operators showed themselves occasionally, but instead of insistent scores of newspaper men one would see in the United States under similar circumstances, only two of the seventy who were regular callers at the Foreign Offices were on hand. They were Americans.

But they were disappointed. The first words, instead of gratifying the hopes for an analysis of the answer, were the exact text of the reply and were in French. Summaries were issued to an expert translator and it was decided to give nothing to the press until morning when the German text had been officially approved.

The two Americans leaving the peace bureau found the streets busy with thousands leaving the restaurants and cafes, talking and laughing unconcernedly. Automobiles and horse cabs were taken. The street cars and subway were crowded. Central Berlin, after a pleasant evening, was going to bed. One longed for the screeching "extra" and excited throngs before the bulletin boards but an hour later, except for light spots here and there, Berlin was asleep.

ONE NEWSPAPER APPEARS.

When it awoke this morning, instead of a score of newspapers, only one appeared in the central section, and that contained just a brief dispatch of the answer the Allies had delievered at Versailles. A fortunate hundred or two obtained the news service sheets of the official press bureau, but that gave only an outline. The opening paragraph of the answer and a statement that the German delegation was stoned at Versailles, an occurrence, Germans say, which may threaten the safety of the inter-Allied mission in Berlin.

From Weimar comes word that the Cabinet will submit its decision to the Assembly on Thursday or Friday, but the only comment on the action at Versailles is that it is a "tremendous disappointment."

"Strong Man" of Germany.

Gustav Noske.

WEIMAR, Thursday, June 19.—Gustav Noske, Minister of Defense, who is mentioned as the prospective head of the new German government, succeeding Philipp Scheidemann, is very popular, not only with the Right Wing of his own party, but with the Conservatives, since he was able to protect property during recent disorders in Berlin. He is unpopular and even hated by the radicals of his party and the independent Socialists, because of the rigor with which he suppressed disturbances. As the "strong man" of the administration, Noske may, perhaps, bring a favorable change in the German government.

RECITES DETAILS.

The communication stated that the rebels had done everything possible to prevent bullets from falling in El Paso. It recited that the attack was made from the river side only after Villa had remained outside of the town three days waiting for the Federals to attack, and when they refused to give battle in the open, a demand was made for the surrender of the town without a fight.

When this was refused, the communication stated, the rebels attacked and were in possession of the greater part of the town when the Americans crossed, whereupon the forces of Villa and Angeles were ordered to withdraw and retire to the base at Samalayuca.

The courier said Villa was afraid the Carranza soldiers would fire into El Paso to force American troops to cross, and it was for this reason he remained outside of Juarez three days, hoping that the Federals would come out from town and give battle in the open.

HAD JUAREZ CAPTURED.

The fact that Villa ordered his men to attack the town from the river, parallel with the El Paso side, indicated how anxious he was to prevent bullets fired by his men falling in El Paso. He had no snipers firing into El Paso and had no reason for doing this as he practically had the town captured, and only the coming of the American forces prevented its capture.

The courier said Villa did not participate in the first night's fighting, but led his men in person Sunday evening and directed the fighting in the streets and around the custom house at that time. He directed the first day's battle from his headquarters outside of the town, allowing Martin Lopez to conduct the first night's attack. Villa had 2400 men in his entire command, but only 1600 participated in the attack, he said.

The Villa officer confirmed the death of Manuel Castro and Alberto Jimenez, two Villa generals who were killed during the fighting in Juarez. He said Villa lost seventy men in the fighting and had 110 wounded. He denied reports that Hipolito Villa, brother of the commander, had died at Samalayuca. He said he was improved in health.

FUTURE PLANS OBSCURE.

The officer had nothing to say about Villa's future plans, but said the rebel commander-in-chief would issue a statement as soon as he had obtained all facts which resulted in the expedition against his forces in and near Juarez.

Train service has been restored between Chihuahua city and Torreon, according to an American who arrived here today from Chihuahua city by way of Laredo. The road was cut south of Chihuahua city by Villa last month.

The American said everything was quiet in the Chihuahua capital on June 10 when he left and mining companies there were shipping ore south.

TROOPS DETAINED.

JUAREZ, June 20.—Troops destined for the Casas Grandes district to guard Mormon colonists are being detained along tahe way by the necessity of repairing sections of the railroad destroyed by Villa forces prior to their recent attack on this city, it was learned today. Repairs will be completed within two or three days.

"John Anderson," an American citizen killed in Juarez last Saturday, when Villa forces fought their way into tahe city, really was John Henderson McLaren, it was learned today at the American consulate, which is preparing a final report on his death. He had a brother living in Hobart, Ind., to whom word of his death has been sent.

McLaren, according to information gathered by the consulate, was in jail here when Villa attacked. Apparently some of the prisoners were freed by Villa followers and McLaren was standing outside the jail door when a bullet struck him, inflicting a fatal wound. The body was buried in a local cemetery.

Military men here today expressed the belief that several bombing planes brought north to Chihuahua city by Gen. Manuel Diegues for use against Villa will prove very effective. Those planes are flying daily there, it was learned, and are expected soon to be sent north.

ARMY AVIATORS KILLED.

SAN ANTONIO, June 20.—Two army aviators whose names could not be learned were killed and two planes of squadrons flying from Ellington Field, Houston, Tex., to the Texas border, were wrecked today at Del Rio, Tex., according to a long distance message from there tonight.

The death of the two aviators occurred when they were starting a flight to El Paso.

RED CROSS SENDS AID.

EL PASO, June 20.—The El Paso Chapter of the Red Cross today sent a quantity of medical supplies to Juarez to be used by the White Cross organization there in caring for men wounded in the fighting between Mexican Federal forces and Villa followers last Saturday and Sunday. Six nurses were sent by the Red Cross to aid the White Cross members who have eighty-four wounded under their care.

DENIES FAMILY FLED.

LAREDO (Tex.) June 20.—Reports that members of the family of President Carranza had come to the United States because of serious conditions in Mexico were denied here today in circles claiming to be closely connected with the Carranza government.

ENTENTE READY TO LAND MEN.

ing posters calling for volunteers to join the Noske Guards. Most of the people remarked:

GETTING ARMY READY.

"You see, the government is getting ready a big army to fight the Entente when it comes after we have refused to sign the peace treaty."

There is more interest in Dusseldorf in the fact that Belgians closed the bridge across the Rhine, and favored individuals, who had been accustomed to enter occupied territory for supplies, were turned back. The closing of the bridge is believed by the Germans to Le due to the fact Entente troops are making ready to move forward, if the government fails to sign.

Dr. Gustavus Albrecht, editor of the Bug, an Essen newspaper, said he thought the Allies' uncompromising reply seals Germany's doom. He said Germany could produce only enough for 40,000,000; that the other 30,000,000 would starve, and that disaster was sure to result.

I talked with a German soldier guard at Essen. He said the soldiers would fight the communists, the government's enemies, but when they realized they were fighting a starving people they would join the mobs.

SWITZERLAND PREPARES.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

GENEVA, Thursday, June 19.—Special military arrangements have been made by the Swiss government for eventualities in case the Germans refuse to sign the treaty of peace. Picked landwehr forces are being mobilized at Basle and Constance. Italian troops have begun to occupy Vorarlberg, the westernmost district of Austria.

Kidnaped Soldier Exonerated.

AYER (Mass.) June 20.—Private Paul Lester Nace, whose answer to a charge of desertion was that he had been kidnaped and held prisoner on board a German submarine, was given his full freedom today after the finding of the court-martial acquitting him was approved by Maj.-Gen. H. P. McCain, commander of Camp Devens.

Hanson Not to Run Again.

SEATTLE, June 20.—Mayor Ole Hanson announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election at the next municipal election.

LAZARUS AT THE GATE.

[Editorial from the Washington Post, June 2, 1919.]

If there is any country under the sun that needs the friendly aid of the United States, it is Mexico. It is proposed to make the United States the "mandatory" for Turkey, Armenia and other distant regions, while Mexico is in the throes of famine, revolution and economic prostration. Whether the brilliant idea of rainbow-chasing in Europe and shirking duty at home originated in the American delegation or whether it is the fruit of European brains does not matter—it is enough to know that it is foreign to the American spirit and cannot be matched for folly.

Mexico is at the back door of the United States. All the idealism proposed for Americans in Europe will be mere mockery if the United States continues to neglect the people of Mexico and thus earns the contempt of the world by posing as a Samaritan in far countries while neglecting the foulness at its doorstep.

The people of Mexico are not natural revolutionists and do not desire the turmoil and rapine that have impoverished and debilitated them. The revolutions concocted by bandit chieftains, down to and including Carranza, were all at the expense of and against the will of the Mexican people. Foreigners have been wronged, but not nearly so much as Mexicans. The horror of Mexico's strife has fallen upon the poor, the starving millions who would work if they could. They are the victims of every devilish scheme that rapacity and crusity can devise. Carranza even adopted methods suggested by his friends the Huns to complete the eviscerration of the Mexican people. There is not a source of livelihood that he has not subjected to the strangulation of graft, backed by rifles in the hands of sharers in the plunder. The Carranza military organization is nothing but a gang of thieves who have long since cowed or killed every decent Mexican who dared to protest. The only persons in Mexico who have stood out against the Carranza bandits are other bandits who are anxious to get their hands upon the people's means of living.

There is no hope for the Mexican people while they are the victims of villains of their own race. Help must come from some organized authority that is not organized robbery. There is no organization or power in Mexico that is not also an organization for pillage of the people. Outside authority must stand between the people and their exploiters long enough to enable the people to reorganize and select their own administration. The Russians are not more surely intimidated by the Bolsheviki than the Mexicans are intimidated by the Mexican Bolsheviki.

Another revolution of formidable proportions is now beginning in Mexico for the purpose of putting Felipe Angeles in power. He is a man of reputation and of exceptional ability. The military supporters of Angeles are led by Pancho Villa, the assassin whose raid at Columbus nearly induced the United States to do its duty in Mexico. Any government controlled by Villa himself would be merely a repetition of the Carranza reign of misrule, but Villa's fighting quality is such that he may do much good by aiding a really intelligent and patriotic Mexican to gain control. A change from Carranza to Angeles would be for the better—it could not be for the worse—but the experience of the last nine years is a warning against placing too much hope upon any revolutionary movement. Madero was a well-meaning man, but the sharks about him soon consumed the people's substance, and their crimes cost him his life.

The United States cannot escape the performance of its duty to the Mexican people, because the American people will not permit their government to shirk its duty. Sooner or later the shame of permitting a neighboring people to die from pestilence, famine and official plundering will strike home to Americans with such force as to cause them to commend their government to do its duty. This is not a party or political question, and it does not matter whether the duty is done by Democrats or Republicans. It is a duty imposed upon the United States by Providence, and it had its beginnings in the birth of the American republic. The Mexican people emulated the Americans in the desire and struggle for independence, copied their Constitution, and manfully endeavored to maintain a free and honest government. The large proportion of uneducated persons and the unfortunate laws and customs inherited from evil days of Spanish tyranny made the Mexican people easy prey for professional exploiters organizing as "liberator," "first chief of the constitutional army," and "citizen charged with the executive power." While the Americans were lopping off dangerous conspirators in the early days, the Mexicans were falling victims to them. Each bad regime made them weaker, until now they are the prey of any neighborhood thief who can lead a dozen other thieves. The people in their ignorance and despair believe that the whole world is made up of starving victims and savage armed uniformed murderers.

This is the situation within sight of the flag that rescued France. . . . It is a condition that indicts the American people and government for their callous disregard of the duty of humanity and charity. Yet the neighbor peoples die, and at Paris there is high-flown talk of the United States as the defender of the poor and helpless!

REVISED TREATY MORE EXPLICIT.

Contains Five More Pages than Original Document.

Responsibility for Danzig is Assumed by Powers.

Important Changes in Clauses Affecting Poland.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Thursday, June 19.—The alterations and amendments incorporated by the council of four in the revised treaty make it a somewhat longer document than the draft originally submitted to the Germans and published in the United States. It now comprises 214 pages, five more than the original, and even this was effected by closer paging. At various points the Drafting Committee sought to adhere as closely as possible to the original numbering of the articles and contrived to make up for insertions or omissions by combining or splitting articles.

As at first arranged, the new instrument still contains the original fourteen parts and 440 articles.

The article assuring Silesian coal and minerals to German industry now reads: "Poland undertakes to permit for a period of fifteen years the exportation to Germany of the products of mines in any part of Upper Silesia transferred to Poland, in accordance with the present treaty, without export duties or restrictions, and permit the Germans to purchase these products on the same terms as the Poles."

RESPONSIBILITY ASSUMED.

In the revised draft "the principal Allied and associated powers" undertake to establish Danzig as a free city. This language in which the responsibility of the five great powers for the creation of the new city and state is definitely assumed, is substituted for the original phraseology declaring merely that "Danzig is established as a free city."

The new article which replaces the original provisions for the disarmament of Germany providing for reduction to a specified point within two months now reads in the English version:

"Up to the time at which Germany is admitted as a member of the League of Nations, the German army shall not possess armament greater than that fixed in the table submitted in this treaty," and continues: "Germany agrees that after she has become a member of the league, the armaments fixed by the table shall remain in force until modified by the council of the league. Furthermore, she hereby agrees strictly to observe the decisions of the council in this respect."

FRONTIER CHANGES.

Important changes are revealed by a comparison of the old and new drafts relative to the new Polish frontiers and the Silesian plebiscite. The frontier changes correspond generally with those outlined in recent dispatches, but bring the Polish frontier nearer to Breslau on the east than was at first contemplated, and give Poland a new section of the Prussian province of Pomerania in exchange for the coast strip of the same province returned to Germany, although the council of four planned for a while to make all Pomerania German on historic grounds.

Some of the changes in the treaty can be indicated only by reference maps of the largest scale.

The provisions for a plebiscite in the Silesian regions show that the vote will be taken in virtually all of Upper Silesia except small areas in the southwestern and northern corners which were awarded unconditionally to Czecho-Slovakia and Poland, respectively. The plebiscite must be held between the sixth and eighteenth month after the signature of the peace treaty.

SOVIETS BANNED.

The same conditions as regards the retirement of German armies and officials and the disbandment of workmen's soviets, which were included in the Schleswig-Holstein and East Prussian plebiscite provisions are found in that affecting Silesia.

A significant article of the treaty prohibits political prosecutions by either the Polish or German governments for any activities during the plebiscite in Silesia.

DEAR FOLKS:

LET me tell you about a Wilson & Company party given by the members of the Fellowship Club of the New York plant at the Waldorf Hotel last Wednesday night. It was given in honor of Thomas E. Wilson, president of the company, who recently returned from Europe, where he visited his branch offices there. He made a special trip from Chicago to fraternize with his fellow-workers in New York.

The New York Fellowship Club has an active membership and the members are very proud of it so they wanted to show Mr. Wilson how it measures up alongside of the other Fellowship Clubs that exist in other plants around the country.

But most of all, they wanted to show Mr. Wilson how much they appreciate his efforts in grouping his 25,000 workers into one big, happy family, where all share in the generous distribution of good-will, rewards and privileges.

I think it is great that one man has the power and ability to lead so many people into pleasant paths and make them proud in his leadership.

The evening party opened with a performance by a minstrel troupe composed of workers, whose singing and acting and conversation delighted the members and their wives who were present. After this part of the program had been carried out Mr. Wilson was introduced and the cheers that greeted him certified to his popularity among his fellow-workers.

It is easy enough to detect the difference between a genuine and a forced ovation; one is spontaneous; the other shows it is given because it is expected.

When, however, hundreds of men and women stand and cheer and applaud and wave handkerchiefs—and do so impulsively and heartfully—then there is no doubt about the spontaneity of it, nor is there any doubt about their liking and honoring the man.

Mr. Wilson talked to them very briefly, but he said what was in his heart to say, and he said it so sincerely that his fellow-workers knew that he meant every word.

The secret of Mr. Wilson's success in his great business of supplying people with his company's CERTIFIED FOOD PRODUCTS—such as hams and bacon, canned meats, vegetables and table delicacies—all backed up also by the slogan, "THE WILSON LABEL PROTECTS YOUR TABLE"—is due to the faith he has in his fellow-workers and to their faith in him. He says so—they say so—and that's all there is to it—except, of course, that all feel their responsibility in the preparation of the Wilson & Co. products just the same as they feel bound in honor to play on the level with one another.

It is out of the question for people living in the same household to act true-blue in one direction and false to another—and in this particular household, don't forget, there is absolute harmony as affecting the spirit, the thought and the action of every member thereof.

Mr. Wilson remained with his fellow-workers as one of the liveliest and most agreeable members of the party until the evening galeties ended.

And so goes along merrily and happily the building of a great organization in matters more important than mere cold business calculations.

Sincerely yours, William C. Freeman,
250 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

WILSON ENJOYS BRUSSELS TRIP.

Returns to Paris After Busy Two Days in Belgium.

Lauds King Albert as Truly Democratic Ruler.

Says People Need Only Aid in Recovering Industry.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, June 20.—President Wilson and his party arrived here this morning at 9 o'clock, after a two-day trip to Brussels and the war zone in Belgium. There was no formal reception and Mr. Wilson drove immediately to the Paris "White House." The President had a good night's rest and said that he was not tired. He expressed his enjoyment and interest in the trip.

At 11 o'clock the President went to the Hotel de Crillon and held a conference with the entire personnel of the American delegation to the Peace Conference.

GUESTS OF KING.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BRUSSELS (Thursday) June 19.—At the dinner given tonight in honor of President and Mrs. Wilson by the King and Queen of Belgium, with Cardinal Mercier and other distinguished guests present, the President, addressing King Albert, spoke as follows:

"Let me express, sir, the very deep appreciation with which I have heard your remarks. You truly say that I have come to Belgium to express my own deep personal interest and sympathy—sympathy with her sufferings and interest in her prosperity, but I would have no personal consequence if it were not my privilege for the time being to represent the people of the United States.

"What gives me confidence in expressing this sympathy and this interest is that I know in expressing those sentiments that I am expressing the feelings of the people of the United States. There has never been in the United States a more general and universal comprehension of sympathy with the affairs of another nation than that which the people of the United States have had for the affairs and the people of Belgium.

HAILS ALBERT REAL RULER.

"I have had the very great advantage of seeing the little that I have had time to see of the experience of Belgium under your guidance, and I know how true it is, sir, that you speak for your people. One of the delightful experiences of these last days has been to hear the acclaim from the heart which everywhere greets Le Roi. Their first cry was for their King, their second thought was the welcome of the stranger, and I was glad in my heart that it should be so, because I know that I was with a real statesman and a real ruler. No man has any power, sir, except that which is given him by the things and people he represents.

"I have felt many points of sympathy between the people whom I have the pleasure of representing and the people whom you represent. They are a very democratic people and it has been very delightful to find, sir, that you are a true democrat. All real masters of sentiments of the people are parts of the people, and one of the things that give confidence in the future of Belgium is the consciousness that one has of the self-reliance and indomitable spirit of her people. They need to have a friendly hand extended to them, but they do not need to have anybody take care of them.

"A people that is taken care of by its government is a people that its government will always have to take care of, but the people of Belgium, if I have caught any glimpse of their spirit and their character, do not need to have anybody take care of them. They need, because of the catastrophe of this war, temporary assistance to get the means to take care of themselves, but the moment they have means, then the rest of us will have to take care to see that they do not do the work they are addicted to better than we do. The minute we cease to offer this assistance they will become our generous and dangerous rivals, and for my part I believe I can say truthfully that the people of the United States want the people of Belgium to recover their power to be rivals, to be rivals in those fields in which they have for so long a time proved themselves masters.

FEELING OF UNDERSTANDING.

"It is therefore with a peculiar feeling of being among a people that I understand that I have found myself under your guidance, sir, touching shoulders with the people of Belgium today. When I went to the great destroyed plant of Charleroi, though most of the chimneys were smokeless, the whole region seemed like so many regions I am familiar with in my own country and if the air had only been full of smoke I should have felt entirely at home. The air was too clear to be natural in such a region, and yet I had the feeling that smoke was going to come in its old abundance from those chimneys and the world of industry was once more going to feel the pulse of Belgium, that vital pulse which no discouragement can restrain.

"So it is with a heart full of genuine sympathy, of comradeship and of friendship that I beg to drink to your health, sir, and the queen's, and to the long and abounding prosperity of the kingdom over which you preside."

AUSTRIANS PROTEST GETTING ALL BLAME.

CLAIM RESPONSIBILITY FOR WAR COMMON TO ALL THE STATES OF EMPIRE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ST. GERMAIN, June 20.—The Austrian delegation has sent a fourth note to the Peace Conference protesting against the German Austrian republic "being made the heir of all the responsibilities of the Austro-Hungarian empire."

It points out that at the time war was declared, the Foreign Minister, his two principal collaborators, and almost all of Austria's ambassadors were Hungarian, and maintains that the "responsibility for the war is common to all states forming the empire that has vanished."

PARIS, June 20.—The Italian delegation to the Peace Conference has been directed from Rome to accept the proposal for the settlement of the Dalmatian controversy made by Premiers Clemenceau, Lloyd George and President Wilson, according to the Paris office of Reuter's, Ltd.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Acting Secretary Polk notified the Senate today that its request that the representatives of the provisional government of Ireland be given a hearing before the Peace Conference had been delivered to M. Clemenceau, president of the conference, and his "attention especially invited to the request."

DENVER, June 20.—Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Brinkman, tourists from Chicago, en route to Los Angeles, were seriously burned and a dozen other persons were hurled from their chairs in the dining-room of a local hotel today when an explosion in the boiler-room tore a great hole through the floor.

NEW KLAMATH RAIL PLAN.

KLAMATH FALLS (Or.) June 20.—Rumors were current here today regarding a new railroad project down the Klamath River Canyon from Klamath Falls to Crescent City or Eureka, Cal. It is reported that surveyors are at work between this city and Yreka, Cal.

About Digestion.

Digestion begins in the mouth. The food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated before it is swallowed. When this is habitually neglected stomach trouble is almost sure to follow. If you now have indigestion eat no beef or veal and sparingly of other meats, masticate your food thoroughly and you may recover without taking any medicine. If your bowels are constipated take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only cause a gentle movement of the bowels, but aid digestion and strengthen the stomach.

VON BUELOW'S MEMOIRS IS FAMOUS

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

ROME, May [illegible]—Prince Buelow's memoirs, known as the "von Buelow papers," is ready for the press and was called by its publishers the most important publication of the year. Leopold Ullstein, head of the publishing house, has arrived here to arrange for the publication of the memoirs in Italy. He said that the manuscript had been delivered to the publishers in Berlin and that it was considered necessary to change a few passages to prevent the memoirs from being used by the Germans to pay back old scores.

Prof. d'Ancona, who translated the manuscript into Italian, traced the history of the valuable stone which was lost on the battlefield of Pavia by Charles Duke of Orleans, a prisoner of the Milanese. The stone was picked up and was offered by the finder to the Duke of Milan, who refused it. It was then offered to Leo X. in Rome and is now in the Medici museum in Florence. It has been the property of various princes of late years in Italy.

Prof. d'Ancona said that the Austrian government, in surrendering the jewels, may be injuring them, since they were not used to it to the extent they now are by private citizens in the country.

RED CROSS IN BALKANS FEEDS MANY THOUSANDS

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

KAVALLA (Macedonia) May 5 (By Mail.)—Millions of rations have been issued and hundreds of thousands of refugees have been fed and clothed by the American people through the Balkan commission of the American Red Cross in Macedonia. In Northern and Southern Serbia, in Rumania and in Greece proper several additional million rations have been given out without charge.

No distinction of creed or nationality has been made. Greeks, both patriarchists and Mohammedans; Slavs, including exarchists, patriarchists and Catholics; Jews, Gypsies, Vlachs and Albanians, all have received aid from the American people.

In a two-month period, 481,440 rations were issued at Kavalla, 332,415 pounds of food being given out. At Serres, another Macedonian town, 256,675 rations were given out in one month and 6770 persons were given 30,665 garments. At Drama 3795 persons were fed daily by average count. Tens of thousands were fed in the smaller villages in Macedonia. The total number of garments issued in Macedonia is close to a hundred thousand.

American charity in the Balkans can hardly be reckoned up in figures, now that the Balkan commission has established headquarters at Saloniki for Montenegro, Albania, Rumania, Greece and North and South Serbia. Millions of American dollars have been spent in the Balkan states in the work of relief—and the work goes on.

Thousands of tons of food have been transported and issued to the starving population of Macedonia. Tens of thousands of blankets have been given away as well as mattresses, beds, coats and bolts of clothing to be made up by Turkish needle workers into clothing for Turkish women. Tons of medical supplies have been issued to hospitals and local doctors and used by American doctors and nurses.

ITALY CLAIMS KARL'S 133-CARAT DIAMOND.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

VIENNA, May 18.—A new turn has been given to the dispute between Italy and Austria over art collections by the statement that former Emperor Charles has carried off to Switzerland the imperial jewels, the whole of which are regarded in Austria as being his private property, but claims for which have been filed by Italy, particularly the

POISON OAK AND POISON IVY HAVE LOST THEIR T

HAVE you ever, during your Sunday walks in the hills, admired and handled, perhaps, some beautiful shrub, with its bright, glossy leaves, only to wake up the next morning with hands and face swollen and on fire with pain and itching? Such has been the experience of many with poison oak and poison ivy. Such experience need not be yours, provided you use Santiseptic Lotion, which time and time again has been found a specific in cases of oak or ivy poisoning. Its application to the affected parts almost instantly allays the swelling and the itching, after which the swelling and the fever disappear, leaving the skin clear and in its normal condition. If you have been exposed to poison oak or poison ivy, immediate use of Santiseptic Lotion will prevent the poison from taking effect. Santiseptic Lotion is recommended as well in cases of other skin troubles caused by the bites of insects, fleas or other vermin, and for promoting the healing of burns. Get a bottle of Santiseptic Lotion at once and keep it handy. It is invaluable in cases of sunburn, chafing, etc. Sold by leading druggists. Manufactured by specialists at Los Angeles. PLEA FOR FAITH FELLS ORLANDO.

Deputies Resent Reference to Allies; Cabinet Out.

Claim Uncertainty is Affecting Italian Prestige.

People are Discontented Over His Foreign Policy.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ROME, Thursday, June 19.—"Remain faithful to our duties toward the Allies," was a passage in the address of Premier Orlando today which turned the tide against the Premier and resulted in the adverse vote which had its sequel in the resignation of the Orlando Cabinet. There was a great tumult, and cries of "the Allies have never been faithful to us. Why should we be faithful to them?"

Signor Orlando's fateful utterance so stirred the Deputies that the remainder of his speech received but little attention.

In the corridor of the Chamber of Deputies after the vote which resulted in the fall of the Italian Cabinet, former Minister Gallenga expressed his view of the result thus:

"The Deputies and the people are tired of this situation. The delay and the uncertainty is affecting Italian prestige. Therefore, there has arisen the necessity for having new men in power."

MONTHS OF DISCONTENT.

Other views expressed by the Senators and Deputies, who animatedly discussed the situation, were that the fall of the Cabinet was the result of several months of discontent with the government's foreign policy, exemplified in the peace negotiations in Paris, culminating with President Wilson's refusal to accede, under any form, to the Italian demands, and likewise the threatening internal situation.

QUESTIONS ARE RAISED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Thursday, June 19.—The resignation of Premier Orlando's Cabinet, should the King of Italy decide to accept it, would, according to conference circles, result in the indefinite postponement of the settlement of the Adriatic question, as it would involve the appointment of a new set of Italian delegates to the Peace Conference. This raises an additional question as to who will sign the German treaty for Italy Monday.

MAN HUNT LEADS INTO HOME OF MATRANGAS.

MEMBERS OF NOTORIOUS FAMILY DENY PART IN SHOOTING AFFRAY.

The notorious Matranga family came to police notice again last night, when a mysterious shooting was reported at 122 North Avenue 19. When Detectives Leon and William arrived there they found that Joaquin Viescara, a laborer in the Southern Pacific shops, had been shot in the left side by an unidentified Italian with whom Viescara had remonstrated for annoying his wife, Amalia Viescara.

The wounded man disclaimed knowledge of the name of his assailant, but several witnesses stated that immediately after the shooting, the man was seen to run into the house of Tony Matranga at Darwin avenue and Avenue 19. Three Matranga brothers live there, but all disclaimed any part in the shooting of Viescara and said they had seen no one enter their home after the attack.

At the Receiving Hospital it was found that Viescara had been shot a few inches below the heart, the bullet ranging downward and lodging in his back. He was treated by Dr. Crossman, who stated the wound was not necessarily fatal. No arrests were made.

PAPER MEN DINE.

Salesmen of the Zellerbach Paper Company held their monthly dinner and meeting, at the Union League Club, last night. Those who spoke at the meeting were John McGaffee, of the Crown Willamette Paper Company, whose subject was "The Causes of the High Cost of Paper;" M. L. Morse, of the Southern California Gas Company, on "Present Business Conditions and a Bright Future for Southern California;" and Victor Hecht, assistant manager of the Zellerbach Paper Company, who told of "Loyalty to the Firm."

ON BUSINESS TRIP.

O. G. Singer, vice-president of Los Angeles Furniture Company, and G. S. Cronkhite, buyer, left Friday for an extended tour of the big furniture markets of Grand Rapids and Chicago and will include New York City in their itinerary before returning. Due to the disturbed condition of the furniture market at present, Mr. Cronkhite stated that it will be necessary to make rather heavy purchases as the business done by his house since the first of the year as been considerably in excess of their anticipation. The trip will probably cover a period of several weeks.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Arrest of 6000 Chinese students at Puchow by Chinese and Japanese military authorities was said in official circles here today to have resulted from the anti-Japanese boycott growing out of the decision of the Peace Conference on the Shantung question. MOLLA FINALLY MEETS DEFEAT.

LOSES SEMI-FINAL ROUND OF TENNIS TO MISS MARION ZINDERSTEIN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 20.—Miss Molla Bjurstedt, for four years champion, went down to defeat today in the semi-final round of the fifty-second annual women's tennis tournament at the Philadelphia Cricket Club. She was defeated by Miss Marion Zinderstein of the Longwood Cricket Club, by the score of 4-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Miss Zinderstein will meet Mrs. George Wightman of the same club in the final event for the singles title tomorrow.

Miss Bjurstedt was injured six weeks ago and is far from her usual physical condition.

"I shall come back undoubtedly," were her first words after the defeat. "I didn't have the strength after I reached the ball."

Mrs. Wightman easily defeated Mrs. Gilbert Harvey of Philadelphia in the other semi-final match, 6-2, 6-2.

The match with which Mrs. Wightman gained her victory won many of the spectators to the firm opinion that her chances in the final championship event against her clubmate tomorrow are excellent.

SAYS HUNS CAN'T PAY COST OF DEVASTATION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Thursday, June 19.—In discussing the proposed budget for the coming year in the Chamber of Deputies today, Raoul Peret, head of the Budget Committee, said it was impossible to expect Germany to meet the cost of rehabilitating regions devastated during the war.

"We do not know now and shall not know for a long time the exact sum the enemy must pay to victorious France," he said. "The treaty of peace gives no precise information on that point. At it is, the reparations commission has the right even to remit part or all of Germany's debts."

WEST INTERESTED IN NATIONAL QUESTIONS.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Chairman Hays of the Republican National Committee, after a tour of the Middle West, declared today "that by and large, the interest in the West is in national questions, with the high point of appreciation being centered in what Congress is doing with efficiency and economy."

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Every family should keep this medicine at hand during the hot weather of the summer months. It is almost sure to be needed before the summer is over and when that time comes is worth many times its cost. It has no superior for the purpose to poison out or immediate use of Sanitas will prevent the poisoning. Sanitas is infallible in such cases as well in cases of poisoning caused by the bites of fleas or other insects. We recommend too highly that every home keep a bottle of Sanitas on hand during time. It will prove a safe and inconvenient, invaluable in cases of emergency. It is remarkable in its healing properties. Sanitas may be procured at most grocery or druggists' cannot supply you, write with his name, to Sanitas Laboratories, Portland, Or. Trial size bottle, postpaid.

MANY ARE GAMBLING, NOT INVESTING

Consider Texas Eagle Holdings

WICHITA COUNTY: 5 acres out of the Waggoner tract, one-half mile from Burk-Waggoner well, which sold recently to a New York syndicate for two million dollars, also quarter of a mile from King-8 well and an offset to the Berkley well, in Block 72.

50 acres, 5½ miles southeast of Burkburnett townsite. At the present time there are eight deep tests being made around this property, one of which is within 500 feet of our land. Shallow wells immediately surrounding this have proven the existence of five sands, some of which produce as high as 100 to 150 barrels per day. It is upon this property that the contract for drilling of ten wells was entered into and operations already commenced. Very recent development leads one to believe that this 50 acres alone is worth more than the amount for which we are capitalized.

CLAY COUNTY: Two blocks of 40 acres each; one location near the central part and the other in the south central part of the county. Deep tests are being made very near to each of these blocks.

MONTAGUE COUNTY: 78 acres in southwestern part, directly between two deep tests, one being two miles and the other three miles distant from this holding.

WISE COUNTY: 160 acres in the southwestern part. This is two miles west of the Cottondale well, which is unfinished, but now making oil.

PALO PINTO COUNTY: One-sixth of 50 acres in the central part of the county, about 400 yards from the Johnson well.

HOOD COUNTY: 80 acres in the southeastern part, near several deep tests, one being about one-half mile distant. The Nenedum & Trees well, just over the line in Somervell County, is reported to have a fine showing of oil now.

ERATH COUNTY: 120 acres in the south central part, two and one-half miles from Clarietta. This property lies between the Davis, the Laney, the Cottonwood and the Fouts wells, all of which are attracting the attention of the oil fraternity. Two or three of these wells have already blown gas and oil.

BROWN COUNTY: 80 acres in the southeastern part. The Magee well, which is now producing about 15,000,000 feet of gas daily, is just north of this eighty acres. The Ventura well, which has been mentioned frequently in the newspapers as having such a good showing, is east. Three-quarters of a mile southwest work on a deep test well has recently commenced. Drake, in one of his State Bulletins, traces a structure from the north heavy producing fields in a southerly direction to this property.

COMMANCHE COUNTY: A valuable block 2½ miles southwest of Knowles-Duke pool. Some of these wells, you no doubt remember, are producing 10,000 barrels apiece and this pool is perhaps the most spectacular of all the oil fields of Texas.

10 acres off from the Bailey survey in the Duke field. This land is surrounded by a large number of drilling wells and recent developments have made it worth several times more than it was when we acquired it. There are some people negotiating with us to drill our Duke holdings on a 50 basis.

EASTLAND COUNTY: We have a very valuable block in this county, lying directly between the Duke-Knowles wells and the Hog Creek well—about three-quarters of a mile from one and practically the same distance from the other and surrounded close by such wells as the Sinclair, Cosden, Carruth, Magnolia, Davis and Foote.

EDWARDS COUNTY: We have 640 acres in this county. This section is part of a tract that was personally inspected by Dr. Cook and approved by him in a geological report. This tract is surrounded by holdings of the Sun Oil Company of Colonel Green, the capitalist of New York, who has already started to drill and is sparing no expense to make thorough tests.

We have but a very small block to offer at $15.00. July 4th will be our closing date on Texas Eagle at this price.

During the past two weeks hundreds of people in all walks of life have invested in stock at $15.00 per share. DURING the next few days this list of stockholders will be doubled or TREBLED.

The question that every stockholder wishes answered is, "What will my TEXAS EAGLE stock be worth?"

How much it may be worth in the FUTURE it is useless to ESTIMATE—the POSSIBILITIES are STAGGERING. BUT it is a simple matter to tell what it is worth RIGHT NOW—this very DAY.

For EVERY DOLLAR invested in TEXAS EAGLE there is MORE than a dollar's worth of ASSETS. TEXAS EAGLE has a large WORKING FUND in CASH which belongs to its stockholders.

TEXAS EAGLE holdings could BE SOLD at ONCE for as much as its ENTIRE CAPITALIZATION.

BECAUSE TEXAS EAGLE HAS BEEN HONESTLY ORGANIZED—WITHOUT WATERED STOCK — WITHOUT INFLATED VALUATIONS—WITHOUT RAKEOFFS TO ANYBODY —IT COULD QUIT RIGHT NOW AND PAY EVERY STOCKHOLDER A GOOD PROFIT ON HIS INVESTMENT.

If that is the case NOW, just try to IMAGINE the VALUE of TEXAS EAGLE stock six months from this time—after TEXAS EAGLE has fully completed some of the BIG DEALS which its ORGANIZATION is working out NOW.

AND DON'T FORGET that TEXAS EAGLE is now drilling TWO WELLS in the WANDER POOL OF BURKBURNETT and RANGER, and have eight more contracted for.

You still have the chance to get TEXAS EAGLE stock at $15.00 per share. When you subscribe for the largest amount your purse justifies, remember that for EVERY DOLLAR you send there is MORE THAN A DOLLAR'S worth of VALUE to BACK IT UP. The TIME GROWS SHORT. TODAY is a FAR BETTER DAY than TOMORROW.

Bill Clymer's Joy is of Very Short Duration

BREAKS UNDER THE STRAIN

Seattle, After Winning One Game, Again Succumbs to Tigers.

BY HARR YA. WILLIAMS.

Persons interested in the Seattle baseball team probably will not be surprised to learn that the Siwashes didn't cop yesterday.

They broke under the strain of having won one game in succession, and the Tigers got back into the running with a 5 to 4 win.

Bill Clymer was out on the line early, intending to show the bugs something new in the way of winning two straight. Bill was in top-notch beefing form, and did his full share, but his team wasn't quite strong enough to come across.

At that, the awakened Siwashes threw a scare into Bill Essick, and forced him to employ three pitchers—two in the box and one in the bullpen. The visitors even came from behind and got out in front in the fourth, taking a lead of one run, which only held until the Tigers took their next crack at the ball. In the fifth Clymer's dreams of conquest vanished, and from then on he rattled largely through force of habit.

Bigbee was able to baffle the home guard in all innings save the first and fourth, but in three frames the Tigers cleaned up enough to clinch the combat. Bigbee, figuring that the rest of the team would not pile up enough tallies, bumped out a homer for the first Seattle run in the third. He had the right dope as far as it went.

Byron Houck started for Essick, and Wheezer Dell finished, with Joe Finneran performing in the bullpen. Bill didn't seem to have much faith in his heavers yesterday, and that explains why he always had somebody heating up in the pen. At the close of the fourth, after having been hammered for four runs, Houck went to the bench, as usual, and there was no intimation that he was about to leave us. But in the home half, when a brainy pinch-hitter went in and batted for him, everybody knew that Byron had gone away from that place for the day. However, there were some who had a hunch that he would not come back for any more. These were keen students of baseball, who had observed Mr. Dell out in the bullpen with his wheezer wide open, and construed this to mean that something was about to take place in the pitcher's box. Still, Wheezer warming is not an uncommon sight, and nobody knew positively that he was going to pitch until he went in. Then the possibility of his not continuing to pitch was realized when Finneran began getting up steam. This was in the eighth, just after Pete Compton had jarred Dell for a double. Putting two and two together, meaning the double and Finneran getting up steam, the bugs conjectured that there might be another change. It didn't take place, as Hughie High chased almost to the left-field fence and pulled down a gigantic fly by Pete Lapan, retiring the side, and precluding the possibility of further changes, as Wheezer came up strong for the ninth round.

The first was a bad round for Bigbee, who indulged in the practice of walking the first man up. Mitchell was forced by Chadbourne. The Tigers then began tearing off a large chunk of runs. Meusel, Borton and Edington knocked singles in a row, one run coming across and the bases remaining full. High drove to Knight for a blown-in-the-bottle double play, but in his haste to relay the pill, French muffed Jack's toss, all hands being spared and Meusel scoring. Fisher released Borton from third with a lengthy fly to Walsh. High was forced by DeVormer on a nifty stop by French, who had now recovered.

Bigbee's homer in the third was a line smash to center that Chadbourne tried to trap. Chet fell short, and the ball went almost to the fence, while the visiting pitcher chased himself around the sacks. This made Clymer feel pretty good, but it wasn't a circumstance to the way Bill felt when his tribe cleaned up three in the fourth. A volley of singles by Knight, Compton and Lapan opened the fourth, Jack scoring. With Knight safely across the pan, Gleichmann whiffed. French whacked a safety, loading the bases. Prentice then fanned in a healthy minner. Unlike on Thursday, he didn't wait to be told about the strikes as they whizzed by, but took three swings. Right after that Houck went fluey in his control, and passed Bigbee, forcing Compton across, Walsh clipped a single to right, counting Lapan. French, trying to follow Pete, was pegged out by Edington. With the side out, Byron beat it to the bench, never to appear again that afternoon.

Hoop, batting for Byron, singled with two gone in the fourth. Bigbee soaked Mitchell, and walked Chadbourne. Thus the bases became normal again, with a guy on each of them. Meusel let the three on bases lose with a fly to Cunningham which retired the side.

With Houck and the pinch-hitter things of the past, Mr. Dell took hold at the start of the fifth, with the charming Mrs. Wheezer looking on from the stand, admiration showing in her eyes as the stalwart head of the Wheezer household entered the arena. They got a single and a walk off Dell in this round, but perfect pegging by De Vormer eliminated them both. In fact, Al was sniping so good yesterday that it got Clymer's goat.

Vernon salted the Siwashes away for keeps in the fifth, when Borton and High surrounded a triple by Edington with singles for two two runs. Two had been retired in the eighth when Compton doubled. When Pete reached second he found he had hit the ball so hard that it had jarred one of his feet loose at the ankle. After High's great catch of Lapan's long one, Compton threw up his job in favor of Harper.

Sam Ross, Vernon southpaw, was out trying to work the bilious color out of his face. The color of his eyeballs has been bothering him for some time, and he finally consulted a specialist, who told him that he was suffering from biliousness superinduced by the high cost of living. Sam's eyeballs were so yellow that he feared he was going color blind. No trouble of this kind is anticipated in Sacramento. The Sacramento athletes say they haven't had enough food this season to get bilious on.

Clymer is becoming accustomed to most of our Coast League ways, except winning ball games and using trunks while traveling. Other clubs are accompanied by a flock of trunks when they go on the road. The ball bats and fighting regalia are packed in these. But not so with Seattle. packed in trunks somebody will neglect to get the trunks on the train. In that case the Siwashes would have nothing to strike out with. So the players take their bats into the Pullman and sleep with them. The score:

HAS EARNEST DESIRE TO WIN.

Bill Clymer may not be a popular idol in Seattle, but he stands well in Los Angeles.

The occupants of the stands and the scorched gods in the bleachers will stand for more loose talk from Clymer than from any other manager since the days of Hap Hogan.

In a way, they enjoy hearing Bill rave, but that in itself would in time get tiresome.

The secret of his popularity, even among those who on general principles of loyalty to the home team are pulling for him to lose, is explained by the fact that underneath this open raving the fans are able to discern an earnest, almost passionate desire to win.

Clymer is fighting for every point, and for every game. In last place, he is fighting as hard as though his club was only half a game behind the leaders with but one more day to go. The average manager with his club in last place at this stage would merely go through the formality of directing the team. Baseball has produced few characters with the never-say-die spirit of Clymer.

Beneath his clownish actions there is the fine courage which will keep a man fighting when the odds against him are overwhelming.

Four more speed demons qualified at Ascot, Friday, for the 200-mile national championship. Sydney William Chavez of the Indian circled the platter in 51 flat. Sullivan shot his Indian 50 seconds flat, and Hughes of the Indian broke even in 51 2-5.

Speed laurels of the day went to Roy Arthur, who made good lap in 49 flat. Coleiro. This is Arthur's first appearance on this track, and himself strong with the boys by his showing. OPENING DAY OF TENNIS PLAY.

Junior Tournament is Now Well Under Way.

Many Entrants Unable to Reach Courts on Time.

Several Interesting Matches Scheduled Today.

The school arrangements slightly gummed up the speed with which the first day's play was consummated for the junior tennis tournament of Southern California at the Stephenson-avenue courts of the Y.M.C.A., where the young players are racketing. A very large number of machines were lined up around the courts, peopled with parents watching their young hopefuls win or lose, according to abilities displayed.

So many of the entrants were unable to get to the courts at the scheduled time that no defaults were entered, but the rule will be enforced tomorrow within a half hour of the time scheduled. Quite a fair number of tennis players showed up and a great day's sport was enjoyed by all.

The results of yesterday's play:

Girls' singles, Virginia Patton defeated Constance Mansar, 6-4, 6-9; Margaret Duncan defeated Lucia Turner by default; Helen Taber defeated Margaret Jones by default; Phoebe Sischo defeated Grace Kelly by default; Miss Sharp defaulted to Marian Carnahan.

Boys' singles, first round: Jack Denman defeated Alonzo Cass, 6-3, 6-0, 6-3; Henry Roberts defeated Roger Welldon, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1; Shirley Ward defaulted to Francis Brinstool.

Second round: Vereker Peacock defeated Dwight Babcock, 6-0, 5-8; 7-5; F. F. Houser defeated Homer Oatman, 6-2, 6-2; Francis Brininstool defeated Joseph Call, 6-2, 6-4; Harry Coffin defeated William Davies, 6-1, 6-1.

RICKENBACKER DAY AT BASEBALL PARK.

FAMOUS ACE OF ACES WILL APPEAR ON DIAMOND TO RECEIVE CUP.

Completion of arrangements for Rickenbacker Day at Washington Park this afternoon was announced last night by Business Manager Puss Halbriter of the Tigers.

At the conclusion of the parade, Capt. Rickenbacker will enter the park. Emerging onto the diamond, accompanied by his general staff, and headed by the drill team of the Elks in white, he will find the Vernon and Seattle ball teams lined up between the home plate and second base. The drill team, general staff and Rickenbacker will march between these towering rows of athletes to the plate, where the celebrated ace will stop while being presented with a cup to be given him by Los Angeles admirers. Just before the cup is presented, a cannon out in center field will be shot off so as to make Eddie feel at home. At the same time large quantities of daylight fireworks will be exploded in the air.

Near second base, six bands will be stationed, three from the army and two from the navy, with our own Firemen's Band swinging in on the selections. This will bring something like a hundred assorted instruments into action.

Dan Tobey, who recently returned from France, will get out on the line and coach for the Elks, and endeavor to counteract the evil influence of Bill Clymer.

Then to make it a still more gala occasion, Howard Lorenz announces that Willie Mitchell, late of Detroit, will pitch his first game for the Tigers. If Willie is in good form, and he says he is, this will leave nothing to be desired.

Soldiers, sailors, Elks and children will be admitted free, and will join with the cash customers in paying homage to the famous flyer. Instead of five as first announced, eleven orphan asylums have signified their intention of attending in a body. Other orphan asylums not yet heard from, should make application for reservations at once.

TOMAN STRONG FOR BILL CLYMER.

Jimmy Toman, short stop for the Angels in the early days, predicts that Bill Clymer will make a good showing on the Coast if given time to get things in shape on his club. He points to Clymer's good record in the East, Toman and Bill were schoolmates in Philadelphia. Clymer broke into the professional ranks about two years ahead of Toman.

Greatest Utility Man in the Game.

Here we glimpse Babe Ruth of the Red Sox, who is playing the same wonderful game this season as of yore. Yesterday he won his own game, which is a frequent feat for him. After Amos Strunk's single he rapped the apple for a three-bagger, later scoring on a timely wallop by Stuffy McInnis.

EVERY TEST GIVEN CHAMP.

BY RAY C. PEARSON.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TOLEDO (O.) June 20.—The question of the physical fitness of Heavyweight Champion Jess Willard to fight for the championship with Jack Dempsey in Toledo on July 4, will be answered in The Times by Dr. William A. Evans of the Chicago Tribune tomorrow morning. This is the all-important question that is on the lips of followers of boxing throughout the country. Dr. Evans has been in Toledo two days. He visited the training camps of both Willard and Dempsey yesterday and saw the rival fighters in action. Today he saw Willard in his workout and made a thorough examination of the champion before and after his workout of nine rounds and what this examination revealed will be told in a story written by Dr. Evans tomorrow.

A mild knockout and a peculiar one, was registered in the training camp of Champion Jess Willard in his Casino ring this afternoon. The way Willard worked in his nine rounds of boxing with his sparring partners stills all talk of his lack of condition, viciousness, terrific punching and all other tests that a man gets in a ring were given the champion. He stood up under them without faltering, without any display of weakness, without giving the slightest evidence of tiring. A guess may go wrong but it is our guess and it is a safe bet, too, that the champion could go into the ring tomorrow and battle to retain his crown. He could put up a battle equally as proficient as he put up some four years ago when he knocked out Jack Johnson in Havana.

Willard did not get on the scales today, so no one knows exactly what he weighs at the present minute. That, however, does not seem to be a matter of concern with the champion. It is as apparent that the titleholder is going to consider the matter of reducing of no great consequence from now until the afternoon of July 4.

The champion is going after something else. He is going after perfection in boxing skill and that includes fast movement of hands and feet, quick thinking and hard punching. And with this he is working for that other important essential, ability to assimilate punishment. He stood in the ring this afternoon and allowed his helpers to pelt him on the body with all the force they could put in their punches.

Then, when he had finished with that spell of boxing, which was featured by the cold and spectacular knockout referred to previously, big Jess and Jack Hemple took a turn at hurling the medicine ball at each other. The ball is a heavy article but Big Jess allowed Hemple to stand four feet away from him and throw it as hard as he could to Willard's stomach.

Clear outside the ropes of the ring lay the massive form of Jack Heinen after Willard had shot him into dreamland in his second round with Heinen, the seventh round of the afternoon's boxing. Heinen's eyes were closed and the water cure was applied to revive him.

Willard upset Heinen within the fourth round, his first with that sparring partner. A right cross did the trick but Jack was not stunned and got up quickly, sliding through to the finish of the session nicely. But in that seventh round the lights went out and a unique knockout was pulled. The champion was bulling around the ring and in a clinch with Heinen when he suddenly swung Jack through the ropes. Then with Heinen's head outside the hemp Jess pulled his right arm out of the clinch and crossed with his fist to the jaw. Down and out went the sparring partner, his head striking the floor with a whack. That's the only knockout the writer has ever seen outside of a ring, for Heinen was outside when he went to sleep. Hemple got three rounds. Monahan two and Chip a couple, making nine for the workout.

While the champion was busy Dempsey made it an easy day but got another chance to jump into the ring while it was raining. Willard had just finished his work when the clouds opened. Bbt Jack shadow boxed around the ring while the raindrops pelted him and enjoyed it. He punched the bag for a while.

YALE WINS BIG REGATTA.

REGATTA COURSE (New London, Ct.) June 20.—Rowing a beautifully timed race, Yale defeated Harvard in the four-mile varsity event on the Thames today by a scant half-length of open water after one of the bitterest struggles ever staged on this historic waterway. For more than a mile and a half the crafts raced side by side so closely aligned that the official timers could not detect a fraction of a second difference at the various half-mile flags.

It was not until the two-mile posts were reached that the Blue blades even a few feet ahead of that of the Crimson. The Cambridge crew made a desperate attempt to turn defeat into victory half a mile from the finish, and for a moment picked up a trifle of the distance, but Yale answered with a spurt which slowly drew them away as the Crimson oarsmen, exhausted by their efforts, rolled their slides and slowly lost headway with the finish posts almost within their reach.

The regatta was the first to be rowed since 1916, and the victory breaks the tie which has existed sinc the last race, when Harvard won her twenty-fifth big race in the

RALLY SAVES BILL HUNEFELD

Gameness Aids Him to Battle Robinson to Draw.

Rallies and Pulls Himself Out of a Bad Hole.

Semi-Windup Also Proves an Even Affair.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Willie Hunefeld's gameness stood him in good stead last night at Jack Doyle's pavilion, where he met Willie Robinson. Willie staged a last-moment rally that pulled him out of a tight hole just as things were shaping themselves for a Robinson victory. As the two men were fighting viciously near the end of the fourth round, Hunefeld popped his man with a staggering right to the jaw and it looked for a moment as if Robinson was about done for, but the latter came back just at gong-sound and held his own. In the early part of this round the new comer planted a telling right just below Hunefeld's left eye, opening a big gash.

He followed this up with a volley of lefts and rights to the head and stomach and had Hunefeld in a bad way until Willie swung over that hard right to the jaw. The first round went to Robinson, who bulled his man at all times and plugged him often with rights to the face and stomach. In the middle of the session Robinson shot a hard right to the chin and Willie fell into a clinch to avoid going down. He was palpably hurt and had to use all his clever ringship to last the round out.

In the second and third round Hunefeld came back strong. At times he would land three and four sharp left stabs to the fact and soon had Robinson's countenance clear out of kilter. The latter would rush in wildly at times and attempt cartwheel right, but Hunefeld was too clever for him and easily shifted out of harm's way. Referee Dick Donald declared the bout a draw amid general satisfaction. He thought that each man had two rounds and an upsticks affair was the only proper decision he could come at.

The fourth set-to was productive of one of the prettiest exhibitions of fisticuffs seen at the famous pavilion in some time. It brought Young Farrell and Charley Roselli together. Both boys were in fine fettle and both on their mettle. Farrell showed to better advantage in the boxing art and scored frequently with lightning-like lefts to the mouth. Roselli centered most of his attack downstairs and landed some gruelling blows. First one had and then the other took the lead and it was so close that at the end of the third round Jack Doyle good humoredly shouted to Referee Donald, "Dick, I suppose you are praying for a knockdown." In the fourth round Farrell took a temporary lead and it looked as if he were going to come out on the big end, but toward the finish Charley tore into him and whaled away at the stomach, offsetting Farrel's early advantage. The bout was declared a draw.

Al Grunan won in a canter over Tommy Nelson, but in doing so resorted to a succession of ambraces that easily led all present to surmise that he was deadly in fear of Tommy's right. Although the men milled for twelve minutes, Al consumed thirteen in holding on for dear life amid boos and catcalls from the crowd. As soon as he would chip Nelson in the sore mouth he would fall into a clinch, and then pin Tommy's gloves under his arms, holding tight until pried loose by Referee Donald, who, though he warned Al time and time again to let go, met with little willingness from the scared Grunan. Grunan had a set-up in front of him, but why he resorted to clinching tactic nobody knew except himself.

Paul Herrman won over Danny Sirios in the night's opener. It looked for a spell as if Danny was going to hang it on his slower opponent, especially in the first round, but Paul showed a lot of grit and stood bravely to his guns. After this Herrman had a shade all the way except in the middle of the last round when Sirios rallied for a spell. Toward the end, however, he was ready to drop and the clang of the bell was surely a welcome tune to him.

Joe Gomez and Gus Williams fought fast through four rounds. There was hardly an idle moment. In the fourth Williams began to reach his man often and looked to have a shade at the end but the referee thought Joe had landed the cleaner and oftener and therefore awarded him the verdict.

Jimmy Berry and Frankie Munroe milled to a draw. Munroe had the better of the argument for a spell but Berry came back and paid a great deal of attention to Frankie's stomach, which he reached often with his right and his efforts in this line bore fruit as it enabled him to share an even steve with Munroe.

A straw vote was taken on the Willard and Dempsey fight and resulted in about a fifty-fifty affair. Abe Attell, the daddy of all featherweights, was introduced and received a hearty hand. He was made timekeeper for the evening. Doyle introduced him to Beany Walker and asked Beany to show the ex-champion how to do the work. Walker thoroughly explained about the three minutes of fighting and one minute of rest and Abie did well for a beginner.

Carter De Haven, during the absence of George Goldsmith, was made master of ceremonies. Carter deplored the fact that neither Sid Grauman nor Charley Chaplin was present as he picked five winners out of six. "I would have mechulled them both and made them look like schnorrers had they been here," whined Carter, and he surely looked the part.

Harry Sherman drew the Klaxon privileges and also acted as assistant referee. His decision in all cases were made without any of his usual flashes of silence and were good—for Harry. Will Wyatt was sadly missed in row No. 1, but Willie would have been on hand were it not for the fact that he was busy sending his family to his camp at Forrest Park, Ventura county. Willie promises to be on hand next Tuesday night with his usual budget of five winners at least. Bob Sher-

COMPANY AGREES TO CONFERENCE WITH MEN.

Grants First Request Made by Employees for Meeting to Discuss Ending Strike at Shipyard.

President Wilson advised in his message to Congress cabled from Paris, where he is doing his best to bring order out of world chaos, that the future would be to the country where labor and industry co-operated for mutual interest and advantage, where employer and employee met as associates and not as antagonists.

That is the new spirit which has grown out of the blood and the sacrifice of the world war. It is the spirit in which the management of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company desires to deal with its employees. President Wilson said:

> The new spirit and method of organization which must be effected are not to be brought about by legislation so much as by the common counsel and voluntary co-operation of capitalist, manager and workman. . . .
> The genius of our business men and the sound practical sense of our workers can certainly work such a partnership out when once they realize exactly what it is that they seek and sincerely adopt a common purpose with regard to it.

EQUAL JUSTICE FOR ALL.

This is in line with former President Roosevelt's declaration ten years ago that industry and labor must be organized on the basis of "equal opportunity for all, special privileges for none."

There is no valid reason why the differences between the management and the men at our plant should not be harmonized on that basis.

WHAT MEN ASK.

In a meeting of a number of the men now on strike held last Tuesday in Long Beach, Mr. Kelley, international organizer for the Machinists' Union, is quoted by a number of those present to have said that the men stood for the following concessions:

1. Collective Bargaining.
2. Recognition of Shop Committee.
3. Seniority Rule.

In order to explain what "seniority rule" was Mr. Kelley said he would give a concrete example, which was as follows:

"If one man works for the Company two years, and another man two weeks, and it is necessary to make a lay-off, if the man who has worked two weeks is more efficient than the man who has worked two years then the man who has worked for the Company two years should be laid off and international organization will back the Company up in that stand."

If this be true, the owners of the plant cannot see where there are any serious differences between the management and the employees. The three principles stated have been recognized and put into effect by the Company, and the only differences must be over the details of their application.

It is an unfortunate condition indeed, where management and men agree on the principles involved and yet the plant is closed and more than 4000 men are out on strike by reason of the application of minor details. The men are losing their wages, the investment of the Company lies idle and the country is losing the ships.

Isn't it about time for the men to get back in their places and start the plant to operating again? A little forbearance, a little manifestation of the spirit of co-operation and unity evoked by President Wilson, and the troubles between management and men will be things of the past.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING.

The Company is just as much in favor of collective bargaining as the men. It put the principle into effect when it asked the men of each craft in the yards to get together and appoint a committ

Present "Merchant of Venice" in Clark Gardens.

Splendid Performance Helps Fatherless of France.

Great Triumph is Verdict of Cultured Audience.

In one of the most successful social and artistic affairs given here in the name of charity, Los Angeles last night again answered the call of the fatherless children of France when the benefit performance of the "Merchant of Venice" was presented in the West Adams-street gardens, of W. A. Clark, Jr.

For weeks the object of the tireless efforts of the scores of society women and actors and actresses who donated their services, and the men who placed their energies at the disposal of the committee in charge the play was staged before one of the largest audiences ever assembled for a similar occasion.

From the moment when the beam of white light fell upon the trumpeter and the clear tones of the instrument announced that the great Shakespearean tragedy was about to unfold, to the time when the last round of applause died away in the nodding tree tops that encircled the unique setting, the word success was being woven into the affair.

"The play's the thing" held good only in part, for last night's great triumph was due also to the players, the audience and the noble object that brought them together.

CHEERING MESSAGE.

It was an occasion long to be remembered by those in the audience, and never to be forgotten by the secret whose good impulses and art gave birth to the idea and who scored an artistic triumph.

Society was out in force. Men and women whose everyday accomplishments are writing chapters in the artistic life of the Southwest were there. Leaders in business, civic and club circles occupied seats in the boxes and throughout the grounds. Hedged in by the sloping, velvety-green banks of the sunken garden, with the tall graceful trees on the right, and Mr. Clark's private observatory building overlooking the brilliant scene below from the left side of the grounds, the audience filled the space in front of the stage, while here and there, throughout the spacious gardens little parties heard the play from easy chairs and reclining couches.

The stage was built directly in front, and above the fountain at the eastern end of the garden. The brick-lined walks and verdure-covered walls of the garden formed the sides of the unusual theater. The palatial residence of Mr. Clark was at the other end of the garden. Two gigantic searchlights were placed in the upper part of the house and were used to illuminate the stage, in addition to the strong lighting effects obtained from the smaller lights at the foot and on the sides of the stage.

The costumes of the performers and the other details of the production were declared to be of the most artistic conception, and seldom equalled in any similar production.

THE ARTISTS.

The artists whose efforts were so instrumental in achieving the success of last night were:

Shylock, R. D. MacLean; Portia, Julia Taylor; Bassanio, Thomas Holding; Antonio, W. Lawson Butt; Gratiano, Wedgewood Nowell; Lorenzo, Casson Ferguson; Launcelot, Wallace MacDonald; Duke of Venice, Emmet King; Old Gobbo, Graham Pettie; Narissa, Miss Arri Rottman; Jessica, Miss Daisy Robinson; Tubal, Frederick Bond; Salonio, Lee Hill; Balthesar, Jack Webster.

Pauline Frederick was the lady in waiting. Her costume brought exclamations of praise. She was assisted by a bevy of beautiful court ladies, who were Sylvia Edney, Awneatha Pickering, Mary Ashley, Clara Horton, Gertrude Short and Viroque Naker. The courtiers were Antrim Short, Arnur Ballard, Frank Roberts, Arnold Gregg and Edwin Frasier. Miss Jean Oliver and Dolores Kent were the pages.

The music that came floating from amid the sylvan surroundings was furnished by the saint Saenc Club under the direction of Edwin H. Clark. Henry Schoenefeldt was the conductor: Morris Stoloff, Robert Staples, A. Bloom and Theodore Gordohn, the violinists; K. Angelotty and L. Hinkelman played the violas; A. Wallenstein and M. Eisoff, the 'cello and Fred Hammes the double bass.

Miss Grace LaRue, Orpheum star, received an ovation when she sang a collection of her popular song successes. She was accompanied by Will Garroway.

The scores of men and women who helped to make the affair a success were led by the executive committee, made up of Mr. Clark and Lucien N. Brunswig. They were assisted by Mrs. Brunswig, Mrs. Michael J. Connell, Mrs. William A. Edwards, Mrs. Russell Mcd. Taylor, Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mrs. Hugh L. Macneil, Mrs. Ernest Bryant and Mrs. Daniel Murphy, who were the executive patronesses.

Hosts and hostesses at box parties included: Mrs. R. D. McLean, Mrs. M. J. Connell, Mrs. Russell McD. Taylor, Gersildine Farrar, who was with her husband, Lou Tellegen, and Reginald Barker, Mrs. Eugene McLaughlin, Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mrs. R. I. Rogers, Mrs. Gregory Perkins, Mrs. H. L. Macneil, Mrs. Howard Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Storrow, W. A. Clark, Jr., and Mrs. Daniel Murphy, who was hostess to a party occupying two boxes. With Mrs. Banning were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Balfour. Another box party included Mr. and Mrs. Lucien N. Brunswig, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brunswig, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander of San Francisco, Anne Wellborn and Miss Adeline Bernard of New Orleans. In the McLean box were Hardee Kirkland, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil de Mille and Mr. and Mrs. William de Mille and two daughters. Present also were Mrs. Sloan Orcutt, Mrs. Matthew Robertson and Elizabeth Wipslow Shurlock.

In Mrs. Michael J. Connell's box were Mrs. Hugh Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rowe, Miss Maude Thayre, Mrs. Leona Montgomery, Mr. Harold Wrenn and Mrs. Mary Le Grange Reed.

Among the other patronesses were Mrs. Henry C. Lee, Mrs. Howard Huntington, Mrs. Cecil de Mille, Mrs. Allan Baleh, Mrs. Rae Smith, Mrs. Leona Montgomery, Mrs. Robert I. Rogers, Mrs. William de Mille, Mrs. Samuel Storrow, Mrs. George Fusenot, Mrs. Leo Chandler, Mrs. Hugh Stewart, Mrs. Samuel B. Thomas, Mrs. Raymond Bradford, Mrs. Secundo Guasti, Mrs. J. S. Danziger and Mrs. James S. Porter.

Mrs. M. J. Connell and Mrs. Samuel Brown Thomas directed the sale of cigarettes and programmes by a bevy including Mrs. Howard Wells and the Misses Margaret Winston, Carolina Winston and Helen Sutphen.

SKY-BUS LINE TO AVALON.

Airplanes to carry passenger traffic will be flying over a direct air route on schedule time to Catalina Island after July 1, according to an announcement made last night by Sydney Chaplin, president of the aircraft corporation bearing his name.

The air route, to be known as the Catalina Air Line, will link Los Angeles Harbor and Long Beach with the island resort, and will reduce the present slow schedule for covering the twenty-six mile course across the channel to twenty minutes for each trip, it is said. The Board of Harbor Commissioners has already granted a city licence to the concern for transportation purposes, and the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce has pledged its support.

A fleet of four machines, designed on the lines of the famous NC types, has been purchased for the air line, and the planes are now en route from the Curtis factories. The maiden voyage will be made in a big navy type plane July 1, Mr. Chaplin stated last night, by Lieut. Harold Waggoner, who was the first flyer to patrol the Pacific Coast for the government.

Following the inauguration of the Catalina Air Line, said Mr. Chaplin, similar routes will be established between Southern California cities. The air routes have already been mapped out, and with the schedules arranged, everything is in readiness for the inter-city aerial traffic, and awaits only the arrival of the airplanes.

"The tide of aviation for commercial uses as well as for pleasure purposes is turning, and will soon be in full flood," said Mr. Chaplin. "Flying in the air is now a fact, an everyday sight, and an everyday business with some. Prejudices and fears are rapidly giving way to confidence and pride as flying demonstrates its utility, social and economic worth."

Affiliated with Mr. Chaplin in establishing these Southern California air routes are Emery H. Rogers, formerly officer in charge of flying at Souther Field, Georgia; Lieut. J. G. Burns, former flight commander at Rockaway Beach, L. I.; Lieut. Edward Musick of the Marine Flying Corps; Lieut. F. S. Salisbury, formerly head of the engineering department at Souther Field, Georgia, and Lieut. Howard Wells, formerly stationed at the Arcadia Balloon School.

PACIFIC GETS NAVY'S NEWEST BATTLESHIP.

VESSELS ASSIGNED TO WEST COAST TO COME THROUGH CANAL IN AUGUST.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

One of the ships of the new fleet will be the superdreadnaught Idaho, the newest battleship of the navy. She will take President-Elect Pessoa home to Brazil and then proceed directly to the West Coast.

Action by Senate committees today indicated that appropriations for army and navy aviation would be sharply increased over House totals in the annual appropriation bills as they will be presented to the Senate.

BEACH PHONE GIRLS ASK TO GO BACK TO WORK.

Early Collapse of Strike is Indicated by Result of Conference; Temporary Injunction Against Picketing.

Early collapse of the telephone strike here and in other cities of California was foreshadowed last night when the striking operators of Long Beach made application to F. B. Spencer, chairman of the strike committee, for permission to return to work this morning in the employ of the Union Home Telephone Company.

The action followed a conference between strikers and directors of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, composed of E. J. Richardson, C. Buffum, C. A. Haslett and A. Wightman. The latter, it is said, agreed to act following the conference if they could secure permission from the Los Angeles union officials. The telephone companies, it is said, has agreed to give the girls their jobs back under same conditions under which they left, pending a future settlement of their demands.

Mr. Haslett says he will not permit the girls to return to work unless matter has been settled in favor at San Francisco.

Further discouragement was given the strike yesterday when Superior Judge Weller of the Superior Court issued at the request of Attorney Arthur Wright, who represents the Southern California Telephone Company, a temporary restraining order which prohibits picketing during the telephone strike. The order is returnable before Judge Grant Jackson next Monday.

The injunction upon which the order is based cites many violations of the picketing ordinance. Besides an injunction to prevent picketing. The order cites the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and others to appear in court and show cause why they should not be enjoined from interfering with the peaceful transaction of the company business and with employees while they are on duty.

EGGS ROTTEN-EGGED.

Almost on the heels of the restraining order came on the heels of a series of characteristic unrest Thursday night when two telephone operators were "egged" while going on duty at the East Side telephone office on South Broadway. The car was stopped by a squad of police responding to a riot call and fired in by Police Sergeant Fletcher. In order to prevent the episode for the sake of sentiment, F. B. Spencer of the Strike Committee issued a statement yesterday to the effect that people who threw the eggs were friends of the union. He declared that threats were strike sympathizers. His comment was that the striking girls had nothing to do with the unfortunate occurrence.

Picketing operators made themselves generally obnoxious in the city as well as in suburban towns yesterday. Not content with interrupting telephone service the girls went over on Spring street where towermen were trying to repair a broken trolley wire on the Los Angeles Railway, and harangued the men in the outfit.

During the past few days the strikers have interfered with telephone service to a great extent by going to pay stations and calling all sorts of numbers as well as putting in long-distance calls and walking away without answering. Another trick to which they have resorted is that of going into apartment-houses, dialing nine on the automatic to call central, and then using vile language to intimidate the operators who answer the calls. Telephone company officials say that people should refuse to let strangers use their telephones while the strike is on, as only in this way can the operators be protected against fake calls which slow up the service.

SERVICE BETTER.

C. F. Mason, superintendent of the Southern California Telephone Company, said last night that service was better yesterday, but that it was still not up to standard.

"Long distance is now going nicely," said he, "and locally we are able to render pretty good service. Today we opened the Glendale office, which has been closed tight all week. Orange-county towns were all on the live-wire list at noon and thereafter, and it appears that the strike is skidding badly. All the company needs is a continuance of the tolerant spirit on the part of the people. Conditions in our office grow better each day. Green girls who came to our assistance when the walkout occurred have learned the board so well that they are beginning to give the public real service."

Strikers are resorting to "sob stuff" to crystallize public opinion in their favor. They are circulating reports to the effect that cripples are going to sell lead pencils for the benefit of the striking telephone girls, also that the company tried to coax callow youths away from their geographies at school and pay them $5 a day to help break the strike.

Yesterday the Strike Committee declared that 1300 striking operators were fed sandwiches, pie, fruit and coffee in the Labor Temple. The girls who were at work said

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker at Riverside Yesterday.

In the top picture he is seen on the shoulders of the welcoming committee from Los Angeles and newspaper men. The big man waving the straw hat is Acting Mayor Bert Farmer and next him is Frank Lowry, secretary of the Rickenbacker Day Executive Committee. At the right (below) are the insignia he wears on his breast and which make Capt. Rickenbacker the most decorated man in the American army. The wings are those of the air service, and the star above them shows that the wearer is rated as a military aviator, of which there are only half a dozen, this being the highest rank. The Uncle Sam's Hat in the Ring is the insignia of the Ninety-fourth Aero Squadron, which Rickenbacker commanded and which was the leading American pursuit squadron. The left-hand half of the ribbon is the Distinguished Service Cross ribbon with seven Oak Leaves, showing the wearer has been awarded this medal eight times; the undecorated ribbon next to it is the red ribbon of the French Legion of Honor, and the ribbon on the extreme right is the Croix de Guerre with three palms.

Shipyard Officials to Meet Committee of Workmen Today; Outlook Bright.

Yesterday a committee representing former employees of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, 4000 of whom have been on strike nearly four weeks, called on the management of the company's plant at the harbor and asked for a conference to discover whether an agreement cannot be reached by which the men can go back to work. The officials of the company agreed to meet a committee of representatives of the workmen at the shipyard this forenoon and discuss the situation.

Judging by the statements issued by the company and by the men this week, there are no serious differences to reconcile. A few hot heads seem to have been responsible for confusing the mass of the employees concerning the differences between the management and some of the crafts employed in the yard, with the result that a strike was called.

Fred L. Baker, president of the company, said last night of the request for a conference:

"It is the first request that has come to us from the men, to talk over their alleged grievances, since the plant closed. In fact, I am informed by the managers at the plant that no demand was made upon them at the time the strike was called."

UNION STATEMENT.

"At a meeting of the men in Long Beach the other night, Mr. Kelly, one of the officers of the machinists' international, said the men were asking for collective bargaining, for recognition of their shop committee and for the seniority rule.

"If these are their only grievances, there is no reason why the plant should not open Monday. For the company had already established collective bargaining before the men went out; they elected a general shop committee of three of their number through their craft organizations in the yards, and all questions relating to employment were settled in conference between this committee and the management.

"Recognition of the shop committee they already had.

"We are willing to enforce the so-called seniority rule, other things being equal. But we will not consent to any seniority agreement that would prevent us from hiring service men as fast as they return and apply for work, nor that would obligate us to discharge service men to reduce the force to a peace basis.

NO DEEP DIFFERENCE.

"I do not believe the great majority of the men want that, either; so there is small difference of opinion on that score.

"I have been giving my personal attention to the situation this week and I am convinced the strike was caused by hasty and unconsidered action, rather than by any real grievances on the part of the men.

"We are ready to reopen the plant and operate it under the regulations of the War Labor Adjustment Board, just as we were doing when the strike was called.

"We are willing to meet the men, at their request, either en masse or through their representatives. I do not now know any valid reason why the minor differences should not be settled and the plant opened at an early date."

LULU WRIGHT IS ARRESTED.

Lulu Wright, a negress, who was to have been one of the main witnesses for the prosecution in the so-called graft cases and about whom centered charges that the District Attorney's office was misusing county funds in supplying liquor, was arrested yesterday by Detective Smith of the District Attorney's force, on a charge of pandering. The woman was taken to the County Jail and held on $2500 bail until today, when she will be arraigned in Justice Court. The offense is alleged to have been committed May 10.

It is alleged that Paul Abrams, son-in-law of the Wright woman, induced a 15-year-old negro girl to live at his home and then at Lulu Wright's home at 327 Hewitt street, and there to practice illegal acts. A complaint has been issued against Abrams, accusing him of pandering and of a statutory offense against the girl. Abrams has not been arrested, though the warrant was issued a week ago. When officers arrived at Lulu Wright's home, according to them, she had sold most of her belongings, and was preparing to move to Mexico.

In an affidavit filed April 15 with the Board of Supervisors and later with the county grand jury, Martin Miklauschuts, formely an investigator in the District Attorney's office, and others alleged that county funds were being given Lulu Wright and that she used the money at a time she was keeping a house of ill fame to buy liquor. Later it was charged she was plentifully supplied with money and protected in illegal practices. These charges were denied.

George Brown, a negro, one of the main witnesses for the prosecution in the Woodman and Henderson trials, and Julius McAllister, negro, were accused of intimidating Lulu Wright while she was a grand jury witness.

RICKENBACKER HOME IN THE SOUTHLAND AGAIN.

American Ace of Aces Given Ovation at San Bernardino and Riverside; will Make His Home Here.

BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.

Eddie Rickenbacker is in Southern California again after two years spent in accumulating Hun scalps and Allied war medals. The American Ace of Aces slipped quietly from the overland at San Bernardino yesterday and was met by Acting Mayor Bert Farmer and members of the Rickenbacker Day Executive Committee. Thence he was whisked over to the Glenwood Inn at Riverside, where he spent the night. A veritable ovation greeted him all along the line.

In the two years since "Rick" left Los Angeles he has risen from the rank of chauffeur to major in the air service, with the rating of Military Aviator, the highest honor in that branch, has shot down twenty-six Boche planes, won the French Legion of Honor, the American Distinguished Service Cross eight times, and the French Croix de Guerre four times.

Few people know that Rickenbacker ranks as a major, because he has insisted on wearing the bars of a captain, but it is a fact that on his return from France, and on the occasion of his being mustered out of the service, he was made a major. However, he prefers the rank of captain, which was won over the lines in France, to that of major presented on his discharge.

TO LIVE HERE.

"Gee, but it's great to be in Southern California again," said he to a cloud of newspaper men as he stepped from the train. "I've been looking forward to this ever since I got home from France, and I'm bringing on my next visit out here to bring my mother along, because this is where we propose to make our home. I've always been a booster for Southern California, and I'm going to show that I mean it by coming here to live."

Capt. Rickenbacker's plans for the future are definite to the extent that he says he is going in one of the lines of business, either the automobile business or commercial aviation. "Those are the two lines I know something about and therefore I will go into one or the other and leave the films and the stage to people that know something more about them than I do," he said.

To those who know Capt. Rickenbacker when he was thrilling thousands by his performances on the speedways of the country, the Ace of Aces gives the sad news that he has made his last public appearance at the wheel of a racing car. He figures that he has tempted fate quite enough in that line and will confine his efforts to something safe, like flying.

California is additionally dear to Capt. Rickenbacker because three men from this State were members of his squadron, Capt. Douglas Campbell, the first American ace, and Lieuts. John Jeffers and Wade Fowler, the last two both Los Angeles boys. A fourth Californian, Joe Waddell, was in the One Hundred and Third Squadron and was stationed close by Rickenbacker's outfit during the closing days of the war.

"I never think of Jeffers without remembering his famous landing early last fall," said "Eddie" yesterday. "We were returning from a patrol and I landed first. When I got out of my plane I turned around and saw Jeffers's plane dropping to the ground in a straight dive just outside the field. We all rushed out expecting to find him dead, but found the plane had made a perfect landing sideways on the side of a hill, a place the best pilot on earth probably couldn't have landed again without cracking up.

Principal Also Wins Praise of Church Head.

More than 500 children of the primary grades of the St. Vincent's School closed their two days of spiritual retreat yesterday morning with high mass and the solemn communion. In the latter services the graduating class of the eighth grade entered the sanctuary and received communion at the altar step, the younger children kneeling along the chancel rail.

Following the mass, Rev. Father J. H. MacRoberts, rector of St. Vincent's Church, addressed words of encouragement to the happy little company especially to the graduating class, and concluded by congratulating the sisters on their splendid year's work. Rev. Father T. A. Carney, principal of the school, was also warmly praised, both by the rector and by the students, young and old.

The members of the eighth grade graduating class follow:

DREAR REUNION FOR BROTHERS.

After Eleven Years Inmate of Asylum is Found by Strange Chance.

The story of how two brothers were reunited after eleven years, one finding the other an inmate of the State Insane Asylum at Patton, came to light yesterday. It was a curious coincidence that C. M. Koons of St. Joseph, Mo., who came to Los Angeles last year, should seek employment at Patton.

He had not been there long when he encountered one of the patients. The man interested him. He noticed certain peculiarities. Finally, he recognized his brother, Daniel Koons, and the reunion was a sad one.

Daniel Koons has a form of dementia apparently incurable.

THREE HUNDRED GET DIPLOMAS.

State Normal Seniors in Very Pretty Ceremony.

Dr. Carl Patton Pleads the Cause of Education.

Tells Teachers-to-be of the Coming Responsibility.

Arrayed in snow-white gowns and wearing big bouquets of pink sweet peas, 300 young women graduates of the State Normal School yesterday morning walked down the aisles of the school auditorium, to the plaudits of 2000 visitors and, following the giving of a brief class programme, were awarded their diplomas by President Moore. The programme consisted of several vocal selections by Miss Donna Marie Hall, songs by the Glee Club, brief talks by President-emeritus Jesse F. Millspaugh and Charles E. Waddle, supervisor of the training school, and the commencement address by Dr. Carl S. Patton.

Dr. Patton's address, while scholarly, was full of rich humor, as well as constructive satire on modern educational systems. After reviewing the ancient and medieval systems of learning, he spoke of American methods of education, and stated that, while we in this country have much to boast of in this particular branch of our government, there is still much to be desired.

"The changes accomplished within the last century have, on the whole, been good," said Dr. Patton. "Of course there is no final system of education, any more than there is, so far as can be seen, any final system of religion or philosophy, or any limit in mechanics or art, yet the reformers are necessary to all development and those who seek better methods and higher principles are likely to discover them. Education is not for people who wish to stand still, but for those who believe in eternal progress.

"Because education sometimes tends toward getting away from life any burying itself in books, it behooves society to see to it that our instructors shall be strong and vital. Those who break the bread of life for our sons and daughters should have a healthy appetite for life and love and work. Like religion, education also has a tendency to lapse into formalism—in short, to study botany without ever going to the woods and to get its surgical lessons from books without the trouble of ever performing an operation. We need teachers in our schools who are possessed of wholesome, natural minds, who put life above literature, realism above reading."

GIRL GRADUATES TO GIVE THREE PLAYS.

TO STAGE DRAMAS IN ROSE GARDEN OF COLLEGIATE SCHOOL TONIGHT.

The first of the series of brilliant graduation events at the Girls' Collegiate School will take place tonight in the garden of Casa de Rosas, West Adams and Hoover streets, when the three senior plays are presented by the members of the school. Monday evening will see the graduation exercises, and Tuesday the reception and tea by the Alumnae Association and reception and dance to graduates and friends, tendered by Miss Parsons and Miss Dennen of the school.

"The Masque of the Two Strangers," by Lady Dix Egerton; "The Romancers," by Edmund Rostand, and "The Hour Before Dawn," by Grace Atherton Dennen, are the plays in which the youthful girl graduates will appear in all their glory tonight. A feature will be the first public singing of Charles Wakefield Cadman's new song, "Peace Rests Upon the Hills of God," the words for which were written by Corinne B. Dodge. Miss Dennen, the author of the third play, is head of the English department of the school. Miss Margaret McKay, a former graduate, will sing Cadman's "New World" anthem.

The following will receive diplomas:

Academic department — Benita Barnes, Ruth Brauer, Helen Bridge, Dorothy Cockburn, Catherine Hackett, Lucy Hartzell, Caroline Hayes, Frances Hayer, Geraldine McCarthy, Marian McCollum, Katherine Metcalf, Eleanor Norcross, Clara Pessemier, Helen Sheehan, Floria Siegel, Czarina Yberri.

Post graduate departments—Florence Adams, Grace Schiffel, Helen Woof, Martha Wellington, Katherine Wimp, Clara Jeremy, Margaret Lamberton, Marjorie Merriam, Esther Nicholas and Gertrude Turner.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN BIG HIGH SCHOOL CLASS.

More than 1500 persons attended the commencement exercises at the Los Angeles High School, last evening, when 229 graduates were awarded diplomas. The graduating class was presented by W. H. Housh, principal of the school. The diplomas were conferred by Charles J. McCormick, member of the Board of Education.

When the winter and summer classes sang "Hail to L. A. High" many people in the audience enthusiastically joined in the refrain.

GIVE FAREWELL BANQUET.

More than 115 guests were present at the farewell banquet given by the senior graduating class of the Polytechnic High School at Marchetti's Lankershim Cafe last night. The guests of honor were W. A. Dunn, principal, and Mrs. Dunn; L. V. Richer, vice-principal; Miss A. Humphrey, second vice-principal; Mr. and Mrs. George F. Winterburn, Misses V. Rowell, A. C. Cooper, M. C. Meredith and H. Ohman and A. F. Vandegrift, members of the faculty, and the following class officers: William Whiteford, Ruth Leithead, Leilah Ellis, Ben Ernzig and Walter Alexander.

GETS HIS DIPLOMA.

George Ross, private secretary to United States District Judge Bledsoe, was graduated with high honors from the law class of the University of Southern California, Thursday. As a mark of personal esteem, Judge Bledsoe presented Mr. Ross with a beautiful gold pencil. The young man will remain with the court indefinitely.

EXPECT BIG INCREASE.

School is Out, But Board of Education Sees Much Work Ahead.

Ninety-three thousand Los Angeles school children abandoned all thoughts of study, yesterday, and began making preparations for their vacations. The grammar school vacationists number appoximately 74,000, while the high school students number about 18,000.

The summer schools will open July 1, and the Board of Education estimates that nearly 15,000 pupils will be in attendance. Seventy elementary schools will open their doors for the summer work, and two intermediate, twelve evening elementary schools and three parental institutions will be included.

Members of the Board of Education yesterday stated that preparations will have to be made this summer for at least a 10 per cent. increase in next session's school population.

SENIORS OF CUMNOCK GIVE IRISH RECITAL.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS TO LEND A FURTHER INTEREST TO COMMENCEMENT DAYS.

The senior class of Cumnock School of Expression gave a charming Irish programme last evening before a large assembly, as their final recital of the year.

The programme included selections by Anna Heileman Hugh, Mildred Yost Cooper, Margaret Mary Preininger, Ruth La Prade and Lenore Barclay, and a play, "The Traveling Man," by Lady Gregory, with a cast composed of Mildred Cooper, Muriel James and Margaret Preininger.

Next Monday night the school will present Miss Olive Pape and Miss Lucile Barnes in recital. These young ladies have completed the four-year course which entitles them to the high school teacher's certificate in oral and dramatic expression.

Wednesday evening the students of the expression school will present "The Bacchae," by Euripides. The production of a Greek play is an annual event at the school, inaugurated some years ago with "The Trojan Woman," that was the first Greek play offered in this city. Reginald Pole, as before, is directing this year's production. He is assisted by Miss Helen Crane Hardison.

The commencement exercises will be conducted next Friday evening, when Miss Jane Egremont Farley of the faculty of the school of expression will read J. M. Barrie's "The Admirable Crichton." "Fantasie," for two pianos, by Techaikowsky, will be played by Miss Charlotte Brooks and Mr. Cadman. Miss Brooks, director, will present diplomas for the fourth year, school of expression, to Misses Lucile Barnes and Olive Pape, and for the three-year course to Mrs. Anna H. Hugh and the Misses Mildred Cooper, Ruth La Prade, Lenore Barclay, Margaret Preininger, Margarette Steeb, Alberta Trueworthy, Pansy Duncan, Doris Ellis, Maria Shade and Stella McDowell.

FINED ONE DOLLAR.

Woman Confesses Shipping Liquor to Arizona, But Gets Off Easy.

United States Judge Trippet yesterday assessed one of the smallest fines ever exacted in the local Federal court in the case of Marie Campos, the young Spanish woman of Ventura, charged with sending two bottles of whisky to her sick mother in Williams, Ariz.

The court fixed the fine at $1, which was paid by a sympathetic juror sitting in the case against James Ludden, a Southern Pacific switchman who was on trial at the time for stealing freight from the Glendale station in interstate commerce.

The woman confessed her fault, but said that the condition of her mother, who is suffering from an incurable case of tuberculosis, was reason enough for breaking the law.

TO EMPHASIZE NEED OF THRIFT IN SERMONS.

In connection with the nation-wide observance of thrift Sunday, tomorrow, a message from Secretary of the Treasury, Glass, urging the continuance of habits of thrift acquired during the war, including the purchase of War Savings Stamps, will be read from the pulpits of every church denomination. Sermons carrying the message of "Save First, Spend Afterward," will be expounded by clergymen throughout the country, as part of the Treasury Department's campaign to spread the doctrine of sensible saving and avoidance of waste. All auxiliary organizations, including Christian Endeavor societies, Epworth leagues, and chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and Philip, and Young Men's Institutes have also been asked to give attention to thrift Sunday.

GETS VASE FROM VERDUN.

On the anniversary of her marriage yesterday Mrs. Meta Paepke received from France a vase made out of a French "75" shell. The sender was Sergt. W. E. Schwartz, who is in charge of the interned German prisoners. The vase was engraved, bearing the American eagle, the letters "U. S.," and the inscription: "Dead Man's Hill, Verdun." Mrs. Schwartz is secretary to Supervisor Bean.

Haddon Wrongly Accused of Impersonating Another.

Counsel Denounces Arrest as a "Careless Outrage."

Now Who Got Big Sum Left with the Hotel Clerk?

Following the presentation in Justice Forbes's court yesterday of a complete alibi, Robert W. Haddon, mining engineer and a member of the Royal Colonial Institute, accused of grand larceny of an envelope containing $950, was discharged yesterday. After presenting his case, Arthur Keetch, attorney for the defendant, criticised the District Attorney's office for issuing a complaint against Haddon when it was known that the man who lost the money had left for London.

It was shown that David Lewes, a principal and representative of the Ural Mountains Navigation and Mining Corporation, Ltd., of London, came from that city upon the representations of J. T. Barrett, a partner of Mr. Haddon, to consult with the latter regarding the purchase of oil lands in Mexico. The deal was closed, as said Mr. Keetch, except the verification of titles, and Mr. Lewes prepared to leave on June 7. On June 5, in the presence of Mr. Haddon, he placed $950 in an envelope and left it with a day clerk at the Clark Hotel. The next morning the money, according to H. M. Beam, a night clerk, was taken by a man who said he was Mr. Lewes. He later said this man was Mr. Haddon, but yesterday Mr. Haddon showed that he left Mr. Lewes at 9:55 o'clock that night and went home, that he was awakened at 7 o'clock the morning of the theft by his daughter and left Moneta, where he lives, and at 9:15 o'clock in the morning came to this city.

Though Mr. Haddon was discharged by the court, the mystery surrounding the theft remains unsolved. Mr. Lewes had to leave the day of Haddon's arrest, to catch a steamer at New York.

"The District Attorney's office knew Mr. Lewes was going away," said Mr. Keetch," and they knew they could not prove the case without him. This is an outrage: under these circumstances any man is liable to arrest. With Mr. Lewes away, the dismissal of the case in a preliminary examination makes it impossible for Mr. Haddon to properly clear up the case. As a matter of fact he was with his family at the time of the theft."

ONLY SUPPORT, BUT HE QUIT.

Judge Puts Pertinent Query When He Finds Defendant is a Striker.

An aftermath of the shipyard strike came yesterday in Judge Willis's court when Jose Cota pleaded guilty to stealing an automobile. The defendant's attorney, H. L. Bradford, in filing an application for probation, appealed to the court, saying that the man was the only support of an aged mother and four small brothers and sisters and that he was thrown out of work by the strike.

"He quit of his own accord, did he not?" asked the court.

The attorney admitted that he did. Hearing on the application for probation was set for next Friday.

ON MEDICAL BOARD.

Local Physician is Named by Governor to Fill Vacancy.

Dr. A. J. Scott, of 1233 South Westlake avenue, was yesterday named by Gov. Stephens as a member of the State Board of Medical Examiners. He will succeed Dr. H. V. Brown of this city, whose term on the board has just expired.

During 1915, while the two California expositions were in progress, Dr. Scott was chairman of the entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce. He has in past years been a director of the chamber and is still a staunch worker for the welfare of the community.

ARE NOW CITIZENS.

Of eighty-five applicants for American citizenship before United States District Judge Trippet yesterday, only thirty-one passed the test of the court. A number of petitions were dismissed for the want of diligent prosecution. The list includes 12 subjects of Great Britain; 2 of Denmark, 2 of Austria, 3 of Rumania, 2 of Norway, 4 of Sweden, 4 of Russia, 1 of Italy and 1 of Belgium.

VETERAN QUITS THE RAIL

After nearly forty-five years of railroad work for the Southern Pacific Corporation, J. McMillan, who has been general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway for thirteen years, is to retire from active railroad work, July 1.

It was rumored yesterday that he had decided to accept the position of general manager of the Los Angeles-Pacific Navigation Company, which was recently organized here with L. D. Sale as its president, but Mr. McMillan yesterday refused to confirm this report, asserting that he was merely helping out at the navigation office for a while.

Mr. McMillan's retirement was voluntary and was due to poor health. It is said that the Southern Pacific Corporation has extended to him a sizable pension on the strength of his long and faithful service, and the Pacific Electric bulletin on his retirement says he will continue as one of the directors, though retired from active service.

Vice-President [illegible] of the Pacific Electric Railway stated yesterday that the vacancy will be filled, the company having to distribute the work done by Mr. McMillan, some of it will be done by [illegible] himself.

Mr. McMillan began [illegible] as telegraph operator [illegible] Houston and Texas Central. Where Union Labor Stands On Bolshevism

"For the first time in many years the extreme radical groups which have always contributed the most noise and a great deal of mischief, pitch their songs in a subdued key," according to a New York World correspondent at the American Federation of Labor Convention at Atlantic City.

While a Buffalo editor believes that every day some new strike, or bomb explosion, or red flag waving in this country or Canada confirms his belief that "Union labor is in the hands of unscrupulous men whose political, social, and economic principles stand on all fours with those of Lenine and Trotzky," the evidences of conservatism at the Convention are many. For instance the President of the Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders Union has sent out an order to local unions which, he says, "serves notice on all that Bolsheviki, I. W. W.s, or kindred gentry will not be tolerated."

For an enlightening account of the latest phases of the struggle in the labor world between radicalism and conservatism you should read the leading article in The Literary Digest for June 21st. It presents the subject from all angles.

The People Who Read "The Digest"

The best test of any periodical is the class of its readers. Character in a magazine or a newspaper attracts men and women of standing and judgment as inevitably as a flower draws the bee, and for the same reason. It suits their taste. Glance around you in the train, on the street cars, in hotel lobbies, wherever your fellow-humans congregate, and note the people who read THE LITERARY DIGEST. They are the best type. They buy THE DIGEST because they know it is accurate, impartial, wholesome, comprehensive, and up to date, because they can take it home to their children with confidence, and because it covers the world's news as no other periodical does. ULTIMATUM.

[BY WIRE.]

...SCO, June 20.—Om... telephone operators ... unions in California ... appealed to Wash... ...ngton the source of ... according to their ...

...charges, are being used by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company to break the strike. Union leaders reported that men were being recruited here to take the places of striking girls, and that large sums were being spent for supplies.

The telephone company maintained its silence regarding the situation.

Before continuing a conference with the telephone company officials today to present a new set of demands, union officials announced that an ultimatum was being framed, which, if presented, would cut off negotiations after tomorrow, and result in all locals in Oregon and Washington being called out.

Telephone company officials were said by the union leaders to have given an attentive ear to their demands and to have offered concessions which would be made a basis of negotiation if the strikers returned.

Today's conference was again continued after the workers had presented their demands, D. P. Fullerton, the conferee of the company, announcing that he would call the session again as soon as he had digested the demands and submitted them to all other authorities authorized to act. It was indicated that this conference would take place tomorrow.

Worthy Horsman, Seattle, and C. W. Hurd, Portland, were added today to the committee named by the unions if they negotiate with the company.

Returns from the two States affected indicated a more acute strike condition today. The operators and repair forces in Santa Barbara were reported to have walked out. Santa Rosa was reported to have been virtually cut off from intra-city and outside telephone communication by a strike of wire forces there. Striking operators at Bakersfield have organized a union.

Fresno operators and linemen were reported to have joined the strike ranks today. An operators' union recently was formed there. Sacramento operators expected to join the strike tomorrow.

Admission that they were winning no new members to their ranks from the Western Union Company, but that the company was badly crippled on account of other strikes, was made by officials of the striking Telegraphers' Union here today. The Postal Telegraph Company continued to admit crippled service, but the Western Union Company said its situation had not been changed materially. But few telegraphers in that company belong to the union, according to the company.

AT HANFORD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HANFORD, June 20.—Twenty-two telephone operators and two linemen in the local exchange of the telephone company went on strike late today. Later the workers, accompanied by representatives of the Oakland and Fresno locals of the Electrical Workers' Union, went to Lemoore, near here, where, it was believed, they would meet with the employees of the Lemoore exchange.

FAITHFUL WIN COMMENDATION.

Commerce Chamber Applauds Phone Operators Who Wouldn't Strike.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

IMPERIAL, June 20.—The refusal of telephone operators here to participate in the walkout of telephone company employees Monday called forth a strong commendatory letter today from Earl S. Casey, secretary of the Imperial Chamber of Commerce.

The communication was addressed to Miss Marie Pemberton, chief operator of the Imperial exchange. It reads as follows:

I wish to congratulate you and your assistant operators for the action taken when approached by the delegation of striking employees of your company from the various cities of the valley.

It is seldom that a large corporation is fortunate enough to employ such loyal and courageous workers as yourself and assistants. You have demonstrated to the citizens of Imperial that you are with your employers, heart and soul, and have gained a warm feeling of friendship and respect.

On behalf of the Imperial City Chamber of Commerce, I wish to commend you and your assistants.

INDIAN BRAVE SAYS HE'S HAD PLENTY WAR.

PLUTOCRAT WAS GASSED SHELLED AND SHOT IN THE BIG TROUBLE.

Joe Mills, millionaire Indian soldier, who bears the unique distinction of having been the richest one of his race to enter Uncle Sam's service in the big war, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to "rest up," as he explains and incidentally rid his system of the memory of Chateau Thierry and the Lorraine battlefront.

Mr. Mills, who belongs to the Osage tribe of Oklahoma and enjoys a Wilshire-boulevard income from oil-well royalties, stopped two Hun machine-gun bullets, a shell fragment and was gassed in the big drive against the Hindenburg line in France, an experience which he admits will appease his hereditary fighting desire for many years to come. He still carries one arm in a sling as a memento of the machine-gun bullets.

He served altogether eighteen months with the army, going from his tribal home at Fawhuska, Okla., in June, 1917, to Toledo, O., and enlisting originally in the Ninth Aero Squadron. Later he was transferred to the Fifth Field Artillery, and with that regiment was sent overseas. After the fight at Chateau Thierry, his command was sent to the Lorraine front, where Mills got a first-hand experience in the meaning of a modern artillery bombardment.

"Never again," he said yesterday. "Peace for Joe Mills in the future."

The Indian warrior offered three good and sufficient reasons for sidestepping future warfare—an amiable disposition, Mrs. Joseph Mills, his Osage wife, and Anthony Joseph Mills, aged 8 years—all three reasons being much in evidence during the stay of the Mills family in Los Angeles.

FREE HELP FOR ALL DISABLED.

Rehabilitation Conference Lauds Happy Plan.

Fifty Maimed Service Men Being Trained Here.

Hope to Directly Help Seven Thousand in South.

Word should be sent throughout all of Southern California that the government of the United States desires to provide free training and education for every returned disabled service man, and to support him and his dependents while he is being trained, and then to place the trained man in a job. This was the keynote of a "Rehabilitation Week" conference held yesterday afternoon at the Elks' Club House.

Deputy District Grand Exalted Ruler Michael Shannon presided over the conference, which was attended by representatives of all of the Southern California lodges of Elks as well as delegates from all of the service men's welfare organizations and of the Federal Board for Vocational Training.

The conference unanimously adopted resolutions indorsing the government's rehabilitation work and voted to give it the greatest possible publicity through the medium of the lodges, women's clubs and other organizations.

As told to the conference by Nicholas Ricciardi of the Federal Board for Vocational Training, "Every disabled soldier, sailor and marine will be taken care of by the government in a very definite way. The government owes a debt to the men it took from civil life and it is paying and will pay that debt. Organized common sense is the method chosen.

TO EXTEND WORK.

"In addition to caring for every man of the 292,000 casualties disabled in the war, the government will, when the Smith-Bankhead bill, just passed by the Senate, becomes a law, also care for every man disabled in industry in civil life.

"Our vocational training is just starting here. We have fifty returned disabled service men in training now in Los Angeles, and 4400 cases in our files. We believe that ultimately we shall have in this district at least 7000 men in training."

Leonardi Antoni, a disabled sailor, who is receiving free training at the State Normal School and George S. Doe, a disabled soldier, who is receiving government education as a mining engineer at the Hedges Laboratory, Los Angeles, told of the education and maintenance they are receiving from the government.

Chaplain William V. Meredith, of the One Hundred and Thirty-Ninth Infantry, Thirty-fifth Division, told of his mission to Los Angeles as a member of Col. Arthur Woods's War Department organization, which is working to stamp out the practice of using the uniform for profiteering.

UNIFORM RESPECTED.

"I find little misuse of the uniform in Los Angeles," said the chaplain. "The organizations of this city have done their work well. No real soldier will take one of those jobs of peddling trifling things from door to door, capitalizing his uniform for the profit of the man who hires him."

Dr. A. D. Houghton spoke also against the employers who hire returned soldiers and sailors in uniform to peddle.

Speakers who praised the vocational work included C. E. Pitzer of the Elks' lodge, El Centro, who said: "We must be patient with the boys who are coming home until they again fit into civil life;" Mrs. Herbert A. Cable, who said the 40,000 club women of California are in thorough accord and sympathy with the work the government is doing; Chairman E. H. Bagby, of the Los Angeles Replacement Bureau, who told of the co-operation which exists between the bureau and the vocational directors; Allen Herrick, who said the advertising men are strong for the government's efforts to fit every returned service man into civil life; Brig. Lloyd of the Salvation Army, who said the army would be found as usual in the trenches with the boys, and Exalted Ruler George Goldsmith, of the Los Angeles Elks' lodge, who said the chief need of the government's educational and replacement work is publicity.

WHERE TO GO.

All returned service men who are interested in the government's free vocational training and maintenance for themselves and dependents are invited to discuss their problems with the Federal director at room 625 Merchants' Trust Building, 207 South Broadway. G. Vernon Bennett is the local director in charge of this work. Returned service men who are in need of medical attention are invited to consult Maj. D. W. Brown of the United States Public Health Service, 543 Wilcox Building, 206 South Spring street.

Gov. Stephens set aside the week ending June 27 as "Rehabilitation Week," to arouse interest in the government's work for the returned service men. The Elks, who are assisting the government in this work with their money and time, will sponsor a second conference at Sacramento Monday and one at San Francisco next Friday.

JURY SAYS NAME OF MOTHER WAS FORGED.

FALSIFYING CHARGE HOLDS IN FAMILY BATTLE ABOUT CONTESTED WILL.

A hotly-contested will case was decided in Judge McCormick's court yesterday, when a jury found that a forged name had been attached to a codicil to the will of the late Mrs. Nellie M. Wall of Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Wall died last February at Salt Lake City. Since that time her six children have been fighting for her estate, valued at $75,000. Arnold E. Wall, a local attorney, and two of the five daughters, contended the codicil to the original will, which had been introduced into the case by Miss Bessie Wall, was illegal, as they said Miss Wall had forged the name of her deceased mother to it.

PHONE "STRIKE" OF GRIM SORT.

Rattler, Coiled About Base of Instrument, Hits at Florist; Misses.

A telephone and a sinister "striker" gave Charles Brunger, florist of Monrovia, the shock of his life yesterday. Mr. Brunger took up the instrument in his shop to use it, and a rattlesnake, coiled about the base of the 'phone, lunged at the florist's hand, narrowly missing.

When he recovered his breath, Mr. Brunger got the snake uncoiled from the instrument and onto the floor, where he killed it.

The reptile was a diamond-back, nearly three feet long and carrying five rattles.

NOW TROPIC ISLAND.

Effective Staging of "The Admirable Crichton," on Santa Cruz.

Santa Cruz Island, at least a portion of it, has literally been changed in all but name since the arrival of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation to take scenes for the "Admirable Crichton," the big picture production of the famous Barrie play. The film folk are busy shooting the scenes of the shipwreck, which forms so important a part of this unusual drama. Elaborate sets have been built to add realism to the location, in addition to strengthening the illusion of tropical verdure.

The company will be busy for another week on their location. The scenes will require a longer time than originally anticipated, because of the difficulties encountered. In the first place the trip to the island was stormy, and landing proved troublesome business. After the sets had been erected a high wind-storm wrought havoc for a day, but by spirited effort the large force of assistants that Mr. De Mille took with him managed to repair the damage quickly so that the filming of the scenes might be started.

An unusually large company was taken to the islands by Mr. De Mille. Gloria Swanson is the star, with Tom Meighan as leading man. Other popular picture people in the play are Lila Lee, Mildred Reardon, Theodore Roberts and Raymond Hatton. Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of the film corporation, spent a day on the island, and returned sunburned but satisfied with the results.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY LADY JANE.

Friday Morning Club.

Abby Whiteside, pianist, and Sybil Conklin, contralto, provided the programme at the Friday Morning Club, yesterday. Miss Whiteside is a pupil of Rudolf Ganz, and has been head of the music department of the University of Oregon. She played Bach, the concerto in the Italian style, and some moderns, including the Dohnanyi Rhapsodie, Blanchet Serenade and the MacDowell Keltic Sonata. Of the poetic element, which is an essential element of MacDowell, Miss Whiteside was fully cognizant, as she developed it, especially in the second movement of the Sonata. Her staccato is good, and she has an unusually flexible wrist. Her legato, however, is not satisfactory in smoothness and limpidity. She is sometimes lacking in clarity and cleanlings of technique, and she is more appealing in pianissimo phrases than in working up to a fortissimo climax.

Sybil Conklin is a contralto who has sung in opera and recital in Europe and here. She has only recently returned from eastern successes. Miss Conklin has a voice rich in quality and smooth in texture. She sings with excellent restraint and sense of proportion. Miss Hennion Robinson accompanied at the piano, and the singer sang a song dedicated to her by the pianist. Also one of Fannie Dillon's songs, "Time Sweeps On," was warmly appreciated.

The luncheon speakers were Miss Mirian van Waters, superintendent of the Juvenile Hall, who is well equipped in all matters concerning her charges, and who speaks with sincerity and conviction. Capt. Price, who has recently returned from France, spoke of war activities.

RICKENBACKER AT HOME AGAIN.

Jeffers told us that he had cut out his engine at 15,000 feet for a glide into the airdrome and had gone to sleep, waking up just in time to save himself from a crash. How he landed on that steep hillside nobody has explained yet."

GOING TO CHICAGO.

After the parade today and the reception at Shrine Auditorium on Monday, Capt. Rickenbacker is going to rest up here a day or so and then proceed back to Chicago by way of San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and Tacoma. There is a bare chance that he may go to Phoenix, Ariz., on June 28 to take part in a great air programme in memory of Lieut. Frank Luke, Jr., whom Rickenbacker characterizes as the greatest flyer of them all.

Acting Mayor Bert Farmer, Maj. Frank Doherty and Frank Lowry, secretary of the Rickenbacker Day Executive Committee, remained over in Riverside last night with the ace and will probably accompany him to Los Angeles today.

The following telegram was sent Capt. Rickenbacker at Riverside by Mayor Woodman:

"All Los Angeles will be ready to give you a most hearty welcome on your arrival in this city tomorrow. The Reception Committee appointed by Col. Ray, who is chairman of the Executive Committee, will tender you welcome home of all Los Angeles citizens."

[Signed] "F. T. WOODMAN, "Mayor."

FLASHES.

ANITA LOOS WEDS.

BECOMES MRS. JOHN EMERSON AT SCHENCK HOME.

By Grace Kingsley.

Deciding that if they could write scenarios together and afterward direct the filming of the same, day in and day out, and at the end of three years still be good friends, Anita Loos and John Emerson, well known as collaborating writers and directors of Famous Players-Lasky films, were married at the home of Norma Talmadge at Bayside, L. I., last Sunday.

The wedding took place under the trees on the lawn at the Schenck home—in private life Miss Talmadge is Mrs. Schenck—and afterward Norma Talmadge and sister, Constance Talmadge and Mommer Talmadge served a wonderful wedding breakfast to the happy pair and a few intimate friends. Late in the afternoon the bride and groom left for their own home at Great Neck, L. I.

Both Mr. Emerson and Miss Loos have been married before. Mr. Emerson was formerly husband of a well-known actress, from whom he secured a divorce, while Miss Loos was married to a young musician named De Palma, something like four years ago, but lived with him only three days.

It is not likely Mr. and Mrs. Emerson will come west, at least not very soon, as, besides being married to each other, they are also wedded to the New York life, and prefer to work there. Mrs. Emerson's mother dwells in this city, and she herself was born and raised in San Diego, having commenced writing there when 14 years old. At the age of 18 she was writing scenarios for D. W. Griffith, but afterward made her greatest hit as co-director and writer, with Mr. Emerson, of stories for Douglas Fairbanks.

Helene Chadwick Married.

Now it comes to light that Helene Chadwick, lovely young leading woman for Tom Moore, has been married to Lieut. Wellman for something like a year, according to her reported announcement to friends made a few days ago.

Miss Chadwick admitted a few months ago that she was "engaged" to Lieut. Wellman, who had at that time just returned from France, where he saw active service. Now it seems she was married to him before he left this country.

Bert Thought of a Way.

It took Bert Lytell's agile mind to find a means, the other day at Catalina, to get rid of a small urchin who was pestering him and Howard Hickman, while the two actors were seated on the beach engaged in earnest conversation regarding picture making.

"Hey," said the kid, pouring some sand down Hickman's neck, "is a flying fish a bird?"

"I don't know—" began Mr. Hickman, trying not to swear.

"What makes the ocean swish all the time?" the boy asked of Lytell, as he tried to see how close to the actor's head he could throw pebbles without hitting him. "And say, will you lend me your hat to put my clams in? And—"

"Here, kid," said Lytell, handing the boy a nickel, "go buy some Beeman's chewing gum and I'll give you a stick!"

Beeman's chewing gum on Wrigley's island! Naturally the kid didn't get back!

Margarita Fisher in Town.

Margarita Fisher is in town, having motored in from Santa Barbara on Thursday. She's buying some new clothes for her next picture, and seeing friends and visiting the dentist and sitting for photographs—in other words, is doing all the things known to the screen star as "resting," by courtesy.

Bill Russell to Sign.

William Russell has completed his contract in Santa Barbara for the making of American-Pathe features under the name of the William Russell Productions, Inc., and leaves for New York tomorrow, where he will affix his signature to a contract awaiting him there.

The new firm for which Mr. Russell will make feature pictures maintains studios both in New York and on the Coast. It is also possible that he will go to Europe for one or more of his features, as he already controls the picture rights to two books which call for European settings. Mr. Russell is spending the week-end in Los Angeles, prior to his leaving for the East.

PLAN DANCE GARDEN AT FILM THEATER.

Something new under the shining spotlight — a dance hall combined with a motion-picture theater. Abroad they have pictures running in cafes, and in America dancing is mixed with the drinks, but a picture theater-dance hall is a new kind of a joy cocktail. No doubt, after the arrival of July 1, various schemes for putting pep in dancing will be provided, and the one devised by a local theatrical manager to amuse the crowds waiting for entrance to his theater suggests a new line of thought.

However, there'll be a whole floor between the dancers' feet and the screen. The Kinema Theater management has planned to make use of the large space on the roof of the theater as a dance floor. It is not to be a public dance hall, or anything like that, but provision will be made so that a restricted number of persons may while away the time until the show opens by dancing. A portion of the Kinema Orchestra will be kept busy playing for the dances. The roof will assume a garden-like appearance, through the decorations installed.

JAZZ SINGERS HELP FILM ATMOSPHERE.

That there is something new under the sun was brought out during the filming of "Destiny," Dorothy Phillips's big Jewel production that begins its second week at the Superba Sunday. As nearly everyone knows moving-picture actors—that is the stars—and many directors insist upon having music during the filming of an important dramatic scene, the object being to stir the emotions so that the star will register the grief, excitement, passion, joy or terror that the script calls for.

But imagine the surprise of Miss Phillips's director, Rollin Sturgeon, when that temperamental young lady stated that for her to register joy in the final scenes of "Destiny" it would be necessary to have a quartette of singers harmonizing in all the latest song hits of the day.

SOCIAL AMENITIES.

Mr. Skinner and Miss Woodruff Exchange Compliments.

Compliments are being exchanged this week between Otis Skinner, the famous star now playing in "The Honor of the Family" at the Mason, and Eleanor Woodruff, leading woman, who is making a sensational success in the leading role of "The Thirteenth Chair" at the Morosco.

Miss Woodruff is one of the most versatile leading women of the American stage, and treasures among the big productions in which she has been featured, her appearance for two seasons as leading woman with Otis Skinner.

She played the leading feminine role in the celebrated success, "Mister Antonio." It was shortly after her engagement that Mr. Morosco secured her as leading woman at the Morosco Theater here.

Wednesday matinee Miss Woodruff called upon Mr. Skinner at the Mason Operahouse and between acts they talked of many successes of the past.

Mr. Skinner returned the compliment by viewing a performance of Miss Woodruff in "The Thirteenth Chair" at the Morosco.

"THIRTEENTH CHAIR" STAYS.

The "Thirteenth Chair" will run a third week at the Morosco Theater. This decision was reached yesterday when it was found that the Morosco capacity was too limited to take care of the unusual demand for tickets for this production. The Morosco players now have in rehearsal the first of Mr. Morosco's big summer productions, "Civilian Clothes," by Thompson Buchanan, which will follow "The Thirteenth Chair," and later will be taken to New York.

WILL GIVE PANTOMIME.

The Marion Shipp School of Dancing will give an entertainment this evening at the Gamut Club, presenting "As a Man Thinketh," a three-act pantomime, in which seventy-five children will take part. Miss Shipp will direct the performance.

"MAYTIME" CLOSES TODAY.

There will be but two more performances of the fine romantic musical play, "Maytime," at the Majestic today, matinee and evening. The company will jump from here directly to Salt Lake, then move toward New York, where it is said the big show is to make a return engagement at one of the bigger Shubert houses.

A LOAD.

It will take a million cars to handle the season's wheat crop of the country. Drop a postal card to Henry Ford. Maybe he has them.

A HAM AND.

It is said that a ham will buy a nice brunette wife in Uganda, but who wants to let go of a perfectly good ham in exchange for the precarious joys of matrimony?

IN THE NECK.

It has been shown that men had their necks shaved in the days of Henry V. But no race of men has yet been produced that seemed to be sufficiently dexterous to shave their own necks. Even Henry kept his private barber for the job.

THE PERCENTAGE COLUMN.

The ruling of a Congressional committee that any beverage containing 1 per cent. of alcohol is intoxicating should be a surprise to some of those good old prohibitionists who used to take their stomach bitters fortified with about 91 per cent. of the stuff.

BEST BEHAVE.

If Francisco Villa doesn't treat the Americans decently it might be considered advisable to start Gen. Pershing after him once more. And it might be mentioned that there would be a real clean-up this time and not merely an innocent spell of watchful waiting.

THOUGHTLESS.

If the strikers who are so quick to leave their jobs at the suggestion of a stranger realized the number of men there are in the world who would thank the Lord for the aforesaid jobs they would not be so brash about placing their wives and families in jeopardy.

IN DARKEST AFRICA.

One of the university professors says that Africa has 138,000,000 discontented people. There have been times when, judging by the noise made, there were that many of them in the Plaza. Africa has no monopoly on discontent this year and we decline to wear crepe over the discomforts of Africa. At least they are not paying $12 for corsets there.

WOES OF THE MIGHTY.

Premier Orlando has resigned. Clemenceau is confronted by a wave of popular turmoil. Lloyd George has a new fight before him every few moments and even President Wilson is having trouble in impressing his opinion on the American Senate. The Big Four might have negotiated a few treaties of their own with the home folks before patching up a wounded world.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Secretary Baker brings his unqualified support to the plan of rebuilding the National Guard with substantial Federal aid. The War Department found that service with State troops speeded up efficiency and capacity to a wonderful degree. The National Guard fulfilled the highest traditions of the American volunteer and the War Secretary has developed into an enthusiastic admirer of the same.

FOLKS AND FASHIONS.

This reform movement to have the men and women dress pretty much alike will never put the men in skirts nor find them wearing birds' nests on their hats. This is one case where the women will have to do the compromising if the sexes are to get together on the problem of a joint regalia. Neither will the old-fashioned man ever surrender his suspenders or wear furs around his neck on the Fourth of July.

THRIFTY JESS.

Jess Willard boosted the price of admission to his training camp from a quarter to half a dollar and the gate receipts will pay his training expenses. Jess always was a thrifty soul. Dempsey charges a quarter at his camp and gives most of the money to the church. Maybe this is because he thinks he needs praying for. If Dempsey could by any possibility win the battle no one would shed tears but Willard and by that time he could afford to laugh. One thing that can be said about our husky champion is that he will never croak in the poorhouse.

GOING WITHOUT.

Now the farmers want collective bargaining on their programme. They want it so that they can fix the price the market must pay for their corn and wheat and hogs and other luxuries of the season. And they would fix them so high that other collective bargainers would have to fix their wages at an advance in order to meet the increases of the collective bargainers of the farm. There is a great chance for an endless chain of collective bargaining with no one much ahead but the man who produces something and never spends a cent. Some day the consumer may decide to do a little collective bargaining and will fix the top price he will pay for the things he wants. If he can't get them for the figure he will go without. The latter is the winning alternative. There will have to be a lot of "going without" before any material drop in prices will result.

GERMANY FOR PEACE.

Philipp Scheidemann and his German War Cabinet have fallen at Weimar and the militarist spirit of Germany is apparently broken. There is a confusion of dispatches as to whether the new government has already formally approved the peace treaty; but the peace advocates in the National Assembly are in so great a majority that favorable action on the treaty is regarded as only a question of hours.

When the final test came the great yearning of the masses of the German people for peace burst all bureaucratic barriers and dominated the National Assembly. When the heart of the German people called for peace, the head which opposed was soon broken.

Harsh are the terms to which the German people are forcing government consent; they reduce the nation from a first rate to a fourth rate military power; they bind the labor and the industry of the nation to make reparation payments that will extend over generations; they strip the nation of all its colonies and deprive it of one-fifth of the territory it occupied in Europe at the beginning of the war.

But the German people themselves fear those terms less than the threatened Allied invasion. Her troops have felt the tooth of the Allied armies and have no stomach for further resistance; and her civilian populations, heart weary and physically exhausted, are resigned to accept the inevitable.

The sobs of the German mother mourning for her lost sons echoed louder in the Assembly halls at Weimar than the clank of the German saber. The cry for peace swept over the Assembly like a tornado and hurled the Scheidemann Cabinet from the government benches into oblivion. A wireless dispatch was sent from Weimar to Paris by the government party at noon yesterday asserting that "All news regarding changes in the Cabinet are premature," but later dispatches were to the effect that the Scheidemann Cabinet was simply holding until President Ebert should be able to form a new one. It appears that formal acceptance of the peace terms is delayed because the parties of the opposition to the Scheidemann government have not yet formed a working coalition.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, he of the clanking saber at the peace table, has been forced to turn over the Foreign Secretaryship to Mathias Erzberger, one of the pronounced peace advocates in the present German government. Erzberger was one of the commission that passed back of the French line in November to sign the armistice terms. What he saw and heard at that time left him with the fixed impression that if Germany was not to be utterly crushed, she must sign peace and sign quickly. He has told the German people frankly that the terms are harsh and humiliating, but it would be folly to expect to secure better ones through further armed resistance.

From the beginning The Times has never wavered in its belief that Germany would finally agree to sign the peace terms, however much she might protest. Dispatches from correspondents in the interior of Germany revealed that death, hunger and desolation had broken the German masses, in body and in spirit, and that they would not tolerate further bloodshed. Their passionate longing for peace has moulded the government to their will. There will be lamentations, but not so great as those which would greet a resumption of hostilities.

No passion for war ever stirred the people of the world as profoundly as the great yearning for peace that has swept across national boundaries, leaped mountains and oceans and encircled the earth. It is a passion not for a transitory but for an enduring peace, a peace with covenants that will mark the final passing of militarism from the earth. Enlightened men have no desire to kill each other in battle. Settling national differences by an appeal to arms will soon be as obsolete as dueliing. There was a time when the honor of the individual could only be appeased by the letting of blood. Higher and more humane standards of individual honor have been evolved and national honor is in a fair way to pass through a similar metamorphosis. The Times believes that the era when men killed each other by reason of conflicting political beliefs has definitely ended.

Opponents in Congress to the covenant of the League of Nations would do well to grasp the meaning of the fall of the Scheidemann Cabinet at Weimar, to read therein the fate that awaits them if they persist in their endeavor to close the door of hope to a world peace. The great heart of America beats as strongly for an enduring peace as that of Germany throbbed for peace with the Allies. As in the case of Germany, where the heart is, there the head will soon be. The American people are in no mood to consider trivial objections to the League of Nations pact; they want to settle the question of militarism now and forever, while the peoples of the world are united in their opposition to using warfare as a method of settling international disputes.

For five years the face of the world has been turned towards war. The resulting horrors are beyond the power of words to depict. With the collapse of the Scheidemann government, that period terminates. It now remains for the free peoples of the world to unite in a pact that will make war's reappearance impossible. No halfway measures must be tolerated.

A ONE-EYED HAWK.

It appears that the star performer of all the British aviators—Maj. E. W. Mannock, who was finally killed in action—was blind in one eye, but outwitted the examining physicians in concealing the defect long enough to get into service as a pilot. Likewise he was 30 years old when he began his aerial career, although war aviation is peculiarly a young man's game. But once in the sky corps he developed a strategy that was all his own and which he adhered to with the dogged persistency of British science. He simply lured or drove his Hun opponents into the highest possible altitude, where he had the battle all to his liking. Before his race was done he had a record of bringing down seventy-three German planes, and some of them fell a frightful distance. It was a wonderful performance and a remarkable strategy for a one-eyed hawk. He was considered the greatest air tactician of the British forces and it was in deviating from his accustomed tactics that he met his end. He pursued his calling far too close to the ground and a bullet from an anti-aircraft gun finished the days of this most marvelous of British birdmen.

THE SENATE DEBATE.

Judging from the report of the first two days of debate in the Senate on the Knox resolution to separate the covenant of the League of Nations from the peace treaty, the question is rapidly degenerating into a partisan issue. The Democratic Senators are adroitly shaping the debate along party lines, and the Republican leaders are accepting the gage of battle as offered.

In his opening address on the resolution Senator Knox said: "If the Senators on the other side continue as a party to oppose all efforts to secure a full consideration of this great matter, if they do not cease to listen to and obey the mere fiat of a partisan Executive, I say here now in all soberness, I shall be the last to shrink from the issue which they so force."

This declaration gave to the Democrats an opportunity which they were not slow to improve. Senator Thomas (Democrat) of Colorado charged the Republican majority with deliberately packing the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate against the League of Nations covenant. Senator Williams shouted in the midst of a confused debate, "You have stacked it [the Foreign Relations Committee] against the hope of the world peace as well as against a Democratic President. You have left on it only one Republican favoring the league, Mr. McCumber of North Dakota, and the reason you left him was because you did not dare to take him off."

The Times regrets that the attitude of the Republican leaders in the Senate lends color to the report that the Republican organization is opposed to a League of Nations and is willing to go into a national campaign on that issue. We have repeatedly pointed out that the Republican opposition to the League is confined chiefly to Republican members of Congress who are nursing personal enmities against President Wilson.

Elihu Root has rendered valuable service in seeking to put his party in the right light on that issue. Prominent men of all parties opposed certain sections of the League covenant as it was originally drawn. The covenant was rewritten with the evident intent of giving the guarantees to American sovereignty suggested by Mr. Root and Mr. Taft. The amendments have been, in the main, acceptable to those who first objected, but they have not eliminated the opposition of the coterie that appears to be in a mood to oppose any covenant indorsed by President Wilson.

At no time has the Republican National Committee or the Republican organization in the country voiced opposition to the creation of a league of nations to enforce peace. Neither Mr. Knox nor Mr. Borah nor Mr. Lodge—brilliant leaders and distinguished Senators that they are—neither, we say, is empowered to speak for the Republican party of the country. The Times is firmly convinced that they are out of harmony with the great mass of Republican voters; and The Times believes that if the issue of a League of Nations were submitted on a referendum to the electorate of the country it would be indorsed by a rousing majority.

Earl Gray and Mr. Asquith, two leading exponents of the League of Nations idea in Great Britain, united in a declaration at the time the armistice was declared that such a league offered the only hope for avoiding future wars. They asserted that the whole experience of history forces the conclusion that such a league could only be created at the time the peace treaties were signed, and that the covenant should be made a part of the treaties themselves. Leon Bourgeois, talented French statesman and diplomat, indorsed this opinion, as did President Wilson and Mr. Taft.

Now the hour has arrived when the issue must be decided. The free peoples of the world are united in a demand for such a covenant. They regard the establishment of a League of Nations as of greater importance than concluding an early peace with Germany and the other Central Powers. If the peace treaty were to be signed and no action taken on the covenant of the League of Nations, the sacrifices made during the war would have been made in vain.

To separate the covenant from the peace treaty would be tantamount to rejection of the treaty itself; for the treaty without the machinery to enforce its decrees would be but another scrap of paper. The Times is not the custodian of the consciences of Republican Senators; it is willing to stipulate that they are sincere in their convictions; but The Times is sincere in the conviction that they are not voicing the thought of the party. The great mass of the Republican voters regard the establishment of a League of Nations as a national and not a party issue.

We are not surprised that Chairman Cummings of the Democratic National Committee should declare the league a partisan issue—that he should attempt to drape the covenant like a toga about the Democratic donkey; but we would deplore any action on the part of the Republican National Committee or the Republican organization of the country giving the impression that the Republican party accepted the issue and would go into the 1920 national campaign on a platform opposing the league. Such opposition would be equivalent to party suicide.

"FETE OF POVERTY."

Writing from Vienna, an American newspaper correspondent narrates the epic of the hundred days of the Bolshevik occupancy of the ancient Lithuanian city of Vilna. At the beginning of the war this city had a population of 200,000 and its cathedrals and museums were the repositories of the choicest religious relics and art treasures in Western Russia. By the end of the Bolshevik dominion the population had dwindled to less than 50,000, the cathedrals had been desecrated and the relics carried away; even the windows and doors of the museums had been stolen and every movable thing of value had disappeared.

The correspondent brought with him from Vilna attested photographs of horrors too gruesome for publication. The fiendish ingenuity of the American Indians for torture appears humane when compared to the Bolshevik outrages. If a group of the intellectual Bolshevists in this country could have passed that period of 100 days in Vilna it is possible that their social ideas might have undergone a salutary metamorphosis.

One of the first acts of the Bolsheviki when they took possession of the city was to declare a "Fete of Poverty." On a given day every member of the proletariat was authorized to sally forth and take what he desired from the person or household of another wealthier than himself. It was during this mad day of plunder that the churches were first rifled; doors of private residences were smashed and the contents of the houses was fought over by the vicious elements of the population with all the fury of wolves.

Many of the raiders returned to their homes to find that their property had been pillaged in their absence, for those who possessed little became the prey of those who possessed nothing. The Red Guards encouraged every movement towards violence. Fires raged throughout the night and those who had fled from their homes were caught in a blinding snowstorm. The day after the fete dawned on hundreds of frozen corpses and a scene of desolation with few parallels in history.

This "Fete of Poverty" is but one of the beneficent institutions of soviet government in Russia.

A MIGHTY GOOD ARMY.

We shall not say that because our troops took eleven times as many of the enemy as the enemy took of them we hold the American Expeditionary Forces to have constituted a military engine eleven times as good as the Kaiser's armies. However, we accept the figures as justifying the reflection that the United States had a mighty good army in France when the armistice was signed.—[New York Sun.

PESTERING WITH PESTS.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

We have been having our seasonal adventures in gophering. Almost every year we spend considerable time in the effort to ensnare the elusive but evident gopher. Whenever we start gardening operations the gopher will indicate a lively interest in the same and he is a regular watch-dog for keeping tab on the carrot patch.

But it is not a friendly interest.

It is a selfish one.

The gopher is a very small animal—hardly larger than a rat, but he has an appetite five or six feet long. He doesn't care much what he eats as long as it is the roots of your favorite green goods. We had some bulbs of the magnificens grandiosa, which we imported from Siam at a cost of about $3 per each and the moment we put them in the gophers could be heard giving three cheers. The enthusiasm they showed for those bulbs was wonderful and they could locate them on the darkest night that ever was. It reminded one of the days when the Alexangelus used to put out Hungarian goulash and baked ham on the free lunch counter. The gophers seemed to gopher those bulbs with the passionate eagerness of a hired man quitting work. They made way with them much faster than we could pay for them.

When all the good things are gone they will turn patiently to whatever happens to be left. The motto of the gopher seems to be to clean up the place—by underground methods—and he can spend a whole summer in undermining a rusty lawn, if nothing better offers. Some day you will notice that your favorite lemon tree looks a bit withered. You give it a gentle shake and it falls over. The gophers have been giving a banquet on the roots and trying to pull the rest in their burrow.

As we said before, in case of famine or necessity the gopher will eat almost anything—that is, anything but Russian thistle and jimson weed.

The gopher is a singularly unsocial creature. He doesn't even care for the society of his kind. He burrows pretty much to himself. And he is some burrower! If the gopher could be harnessed to industry he could sink a well on every ranch in California. A flock of 70,000 gophers could bore the Second-street tunnel in six nights.

But who ever saw a flock of gophers?

The gopher is uncommunicable and secretive. Like the porch climber and the vampire he does most of his dirty work at nights. It is hard indeed to get a glimpse of him, although on occasion he will suddenly poke his head above the surface when burrowing and may then be seen. But only for a moment. He is almost never to be caught on the surface of the ground and he is virtually a stranger to our peerless sunshine.

The pursuit of the gopher is something of a problem alike to the rancher, the gardener and the landscape artist. His capacity for destruction is large for his cubic contents and his activity is tireless. He cannot be stalked like the moose or the blind tiger, neither can he be shot from range like the polar bear or Villista. Mostly he has to be trapped, like the moonshiner and the blackmailer. Sometimes he may be done away with by mixing arsenic in his fodder and on occasion he may be gassed in his own tunnel by the use of explosive rockets. Some cats develop into mighty gopher hunters, but does seldom have the patience and stealthiness essential to the chase.

On several occasions we have urged on the Governor our appointment as gopher commissioner. There seems to be every kind of a commissioner but that. Under the direction of an active and earnest commissioner the gophers could be gradually repressed or else their activities diverted into useful pursuits. They might even be taught to vote the Progressive ticket. They are voting the squirrels at Sacramento; why not the gophers?

But with an eager and industrious gopher commissioner at $5000 a year and a bounty of a dollar apiece on pelts the State of California could do a wonderful business. She could at least accumulate the largest collection of gopher skins in the world.

The gopher hails from a branch of the rodent family—known in highbrow as Geomys. This is pronounced as if spelled "Gee! Oh, my!" This is the way you sound it when you notice that one of the species has thrown up his mound of possession in the midst of your favorite onion bed.

The gopher has the protruding and gleaming tusks of a Bolshevist and its bite may be almost as painful when it sinks into your thumb while taking it from a trap; but mostly it is defenseless and it finds its safety in darkness and in the depths of the earth. It has no singing voice at all and will not even squeak when being gassed by a single tax argument.

The pocket gopher is so called because he carries part of his fodder off with him when locating the home nest. This is done in a furlined pouch depending from his jowls. Some folks think he uses the pocket as a sort of a steam shovel or to carry samples of his real estate, but this doesn't seem to be the fact. It is a lunch basket only.

We still insist that the gopher proposition can never be adequately handled in California until it is placed in the keeping of some brainy commissioner who is willing to work nights to earn his $5000 per annum.

If he would come out our way nights with a couple of mouse traps he could do quite a business.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

DO IT NOW.

If there's work that should be done, do it now; if you wish to borrow mon, do it now; putting off from day to day is a foolish, slipshod way, and such methods never pay—do it now. If you'd ply a deathless pen, do it now; if you ought to set a hen, do it now; if you're billed to trim the lawn, do not wait the morrow's dawn; you may then be dead and gone—do it now. If you'd build yourself a home, do it now; if you'd write an epic pome, do it now; oh, so many fellows cry, "We have plans for by and by!" If you'd climb to places high, do it now. If you'd renovate your life, do it now; if you'd cheer your weary wife, do it now; it is vain to sit and wait till you get your mood on straight; if you ought to pull your freight, pull it now. If you'd buy next winter's coal, buy it now; if you wish to save a roll, save it now; for no man can rise and say what may happen when today is worn out and laid away; do things now. If you'd demonstrate your grit, do it now; if you hope to make a hit, do it now; for the idler cuts no ice, and the dreamer lacks the price; if you'd get there once or twice, do it now.

CARS OF CANTALOUPES.

Imperial Valley Growers Dispose of Immense Crop.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

IMPERIAL, June 20.—Cantaloupe shipments are gradually slowing up, though local operators believe that 300-car days will prevail for another week. Estimates of the probable total number of cars for the year vary from five to eight thousand, the general consensus of opinion being that the final total will be 7000 cars.

The Brawley district has shipped almost twice as many cars as all the remainder of the valley combined. Including Westmoreland, the north part of the valley has shipped four-fifths of the total output to date. However, the Heber district, in the south, which has the largest acreage except Brawley and Westmoreland, has been slow in starting and later in the season may come to the fore and pass Westmoreland.

The present number of cars for the season is a little over 4000. One car of cantaloupes was shipped Sunday to Alvarino and Alfonso at Havana, Cuba, via Key West.

"JERKY" HUNTS LIONS.

Ranchers Obtain Services of Expert to Kill Big Game.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, June 20.—"Jerky" Johnson, a well-known hunter and trapper of the Tejon country, has been hired to go after the mountain lions in the Santa Barbara National Forest, a part of which extends into this county. The animals are bolder now than in years past and range far outside the forest. In fact they have come in within a few miles of the town of Ventura, having been seen as close as the Canet Ranch and the Ayers Ranch in the Casitas. The lions have done thousands of dollars worth of damage to the stockmen of this county.

FARMERS GET DAMAGES.

First Woman Jury Foreman Hands Verdict to Woman Clerk.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, June 20.—Farmers who lost their beans when the Southern Pacific Milling Company's warehouse at Santa Susana was destroyed by fire on Christmas day have great hopes now of recovering in full losses sustained. The jury sitting in the case of Fred Runkle against the company this week awarded Runkle $5652.17 damages. This was somewhat less than Runkle had claimed, but the difference came in the price of the beans not because there was any question about the company paying for them.

Mrs. Minnie Segrue, the only woman on the jury, served as foreman, and brought a verdict into court in fifteen minutes. Mrs. Segrue who was the first woman to head a jury in the local court handed the verdict to Mrs. Doris Fender, the first woman deputy county clerk in the history of this county.

Frank Batty, exalted ruler, has been appointed a delegate to the State Committee Conference in Los Angeles, June 29. James Egan, secretary for the local lodge, will be local representative in San Francisco, June 27.

FIRES BLAZE AT PASADENA.

Small Damage Results from Three Calls for Help.

Crown City High School has Big Graduating Class.

Question of Band Concerts not up to the Voters.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, June 20.—A foundry, five garages, three dwellings and a shed were burned or seriously damaged by three different fires here today. The day was warm, and each blaze gave the fire department a warm tussle.

Burning rubbish was ascribed by the fire department as the origin of a blaze at 840 North Michigan avenue, which destroyed a cottage, garage and shed owned by John Marshall, spread to a garage owned by Mrs. Augusta Smith, 849 North Michigan avenue, then crackled through a row of eucalyptus trees to buildings on North Chester avenue. A cottage owned by J. A. Wormell, 841 North Chester avenue, and garages owned by Kenneth Newell and Z. Z. Maloch were damaged.

Fires, late this afternoon, damaged the Pasadena Foundry, South Broadway, near Green street, and a small dwelling in the northwest section of the city.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Commencement exercises were held at the Pasadena High School, tonight, a class of 222 boys and girls receiving their diplomas. Of the graduating class, 147 were girls and seventy-five were boys. The diplomas were presented by Mrs. S. W. Odell, vice-president of the Board of Education, following greetings to the class by Supt. J. M. Rhodes and Walter C. Wilson, principal of the high school.

A novel feature of the commencement was created by brief talks from four former students of the high school, who recently returned from war service: Lieut. Royal Wilke, aviation; Lieut. Welford Seay, infantry; Ralph Hosler, ambulance service; Arthur Raymond, S.A.T.C. Speeches were made also by Winnifred Wallace of the class of 1919, and Leslie Webster, senior class president. Isabel Mae Smith, one of the graduates, sang, and there were several numbers by the High School Orchestra. Rev. Merle N. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

BAND ELECTION OFF.

The bond election will be held in Pasadena July 1, all right, but the band election is off. The City Commission today reversed itself, killing the special ordinance calling a special election on July 1 to decide whether the city should make a special appropriation for municipal band concerts next year. The reversal was made when the commission received word from the County Board of Supervisors that it would have to pay half the salaries of election officials July 1, and furnish separate ballots and other expense. This would cost from $1500 to $2000, so the commission decided to call off the special election and put the $1500 or $2000 directly into the city budget for band concerts. Therefore, the county will not be helped out on the highway bond election July 1.

SOLDIER IS HELD.

Pasadena police are holding on a charge of passing bad checks J. M. Sowers of the One Hundred and Fifteenth Motor Transport Corps, but on leave from that organization. Sowers's home is in San Bernardino, where he was formerly employed by the Pacific Electric Railway as a conductor. The police say Sowers has admitted passing a number of bad checks. He will have a preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace Raymond G. Thompson Monday.

ORANGE CROP GOOD.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, June 20.—Some orange growers have been worrying about the "June drop" of oranges this year, but a careful investigation shows that while the drop is heavy an exceptionally heavy crop had "set" on the trees and that there is a big crop still hanging. A peculiar feature about the drop this year is that the orange that drops carried with it quite a length of the stem instead of coming off at the junction as usual. There are still prospects for a large citrus fruit crop.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TULARE, June 20.—At the conclusion of her preliminary hearing before Judge Frymire, Mrs. S. E. Baker, a widow, who has several small children, was bound over to the Superior Court on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Mrs. Baker was arrested on complaint of E. Allan Abbott, a dealer in second-hand automobiles, who testified that she sold him a car she did not own. Mrs. Baker declared when the transfer was made she explained to Abbott that she had bought the car on contract and that he had agreed to make the past-due payments. Abbott denied that Mrs. Baker made such statement to him.

DONATES TO Y.M.C.A.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, June 20.—R. C. Merryman, orange grower of the Exeter district, has donated to the Y.M.C.A. here the use of a suite of rooms in the Merryman Building, now being fitted up for club rooms and offices of the organization. More than 200 charter members have been listed, with indications this number will be materially increased as a result of a membership campaign which has just been started.

The plays will be produced every Sunday morning, before the service, and will be of an educational character, and will treat of everyday practical experiences that teach a moral truth.

LOCATE LOST BOY.

Pomona Lad Absent for Many Months Now a Sailor.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, June 20.—Following a search which has been conducted over the entire country for more than a year, Albert Mankins, son of Mrs. Alice Greenwall, of 278 North Garey avenue, has been located. The boy, who is 15 years of age, is in the navy and is stationed at Portland, Or., where he has been for the last six months.

In a letter just received by his mother he does not explain his long silence, but says that he will secure a short leave of absence in the near future and that time he will explain all.

The boy was last seen in Las Vegas, Nev., March 15, of 1918, at which time he was employed at a roundhouse of the Salt Lake Railroad.

WOMAN TO PRISON.

First Female Offender in Many Years Sentenced in Kern County.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BAKERSFIELD, June 20.—The first woman to be sentenced to a term in the State prison from Kern county since 1910 has secured a temporary stay of sentence, pending a hearing on a writ of probable cause. Mrs. Mabel Webber, a middle-aged realty agent, was sentenced by Superior Judge T. N. Harvey to serve not less than one year and not more than fourteen, following her conviction by a jury on the charge of forging a deed.

In 1910 Anna Lee was given a ten years' sentence for the murder of G. Pucci, her paramour. Mrs. Webber was indicted last winter by the grand jury, on six counts. The several charges related to property exchanges in Bakersfield and Delano.

JAP COLONY GROWS.

Census at Riverside Shows Big Gain in Population.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, June 20.—A recent census of the Japanese population of this city shows that the number is rapidly increasing. K. Maruyama, one of the best-informed of the Japanese residents, who has resided here for twenty years, thinks the activities of the steamship agents will result in a large influx of the young men and women of Japan during the next few years. Of the 168 Japanese now resident here, Mr. Maruyama says there are 72 men and 43 women. The fact that there are 58 children gives some indication of how the Japanese population may increase without further immigration.

On the other hand, the Chinese population has rapidly dwindled, there being about seventy left in Chinatown, which a quarter of a century ago had a population of nearly 700. Those that remain are, for the most part, old men who have lost all desire to return to their native land.

SANTA BARBARA, June 20.—The body of John Adams Graham, Boston banker and financier, who died here suddenly Wednesday night, has been taken to San Francisco for interment.

FIRE DESTROYS GRAIN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TULARE, June 20.—Fire, the origin of which has not been ascertained, destroyed 200 acres of standing grain on the Sanborn ranch, near here, with a loss of about $10,000, on which there was insurance of $5000.

Discovery of a box of matches from which a few had been taken, and which had been thrown beside the road near the ranch led some to attribute the blaze to incendiaries. Officers are of the opinion that the fire was caused from a spark from a harvester.

TEACHERS FOR TULARE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TULARE, June 20.—Miss Maude McKeen of Lemon Cove, and Miss Buena Cobb of this place have been selected as the principals for the two new grammar schools which are now under construction, funds for which were raised by the sale of $90,000 in bonds recently voted.

Among the newly-chosen high school teachers is Lieut. Luther Sharp of Los Angeles, who will be in charge of physical and military training.

NO LABOR SHORTAGE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, June 20.—Despite the unusual demand for labor from canneries, orchards and grain ranches, the supply of all classes of help, according to reports from the Chamber of Commerce employment office, is about equal to the demand.

High school girls and other young women, unaccustomed to such work, have registered in large numbers for cannery jobs, attracted by the high scale of wages offered. About the only difficulty experienced has been in securing men for the more remote grain ranches, but as the supply of labor has increased, this is being adjusted as well.

PROPOSE BIG BOND ISSUE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, June 20. — Another boost for the biggest campaign of municipal improvements ever carried out at one time in this city was given today when the thirteen members of the civic survey committee met in the Chamber of Commerce and started preliminary arrangements to get the many different proposals for school and municipal improvements into concrete form for presentation to the public at a mass meeting, the exact date of which has not yet been decided but which may be held Saturday evening. It is expected that the total amount of the bond issue which will be asked will reach a total of $500,000.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate has always been the standard of highest chocolate-quality. The price has always depended on the cost of the materials that enter into its manufacture.

So great has been the increase in the cost of these raw materials, however, that we have been forced to advance the price of Ghirardelli's in order to maintain its high quality-standard.

But, whatever its price, thrifty housewives appreciate the distinct economy in Ghirardelli's—because of its uncommon quality, its wide range of uses, its great convenience.

Harker will preach in the Plymouth Congregational Church, on the 20th Dr. W. H. Fishburn will preach in Magnolia-avenue Christian Church and on the 27th Dr. J. "SYMBOLS OF MANHOOD."
WESTLAKE PRESBYTERIAN.

He will preach on the "Opened Door" tomorrow morning and in the evening will begin a unique series on the general theme of "Symbols of Manhood." This series is the result of Dr. Briegleb's observations in watching the debarkation of troops in New York. He expects to use the insignia of some of the returning divisions as the basis of his addresses. His sermon tomorrow night will be dedicated to men of the Forty-second Division and the subject will be "The Rainbow Man." Other subjects during the series will be "The Sunshine Man," "The Liberty Man," "The Wild West Man," "The Blue and the Gray Man" and "The Man of the Cross."

DR. ROBERT MACARTHUR.
TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Dr. Robert Stuart MacArthur, for nearly forty-two years pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, New York City, and who is now supplying the pulpit of the Temple Baptist Church, Auditorium Building, Los Angeles, will preach tomorrow morning a sermon which has had a unique history. It is entitled "What Think Ye of Christ—the Question of the Centuries?" He preached this sermon in his own pulpit in New York and it was afterward published in a volume, entitled "Great Sermons by Great Preachers."

The sermon was translated and published in many tongues. Missionaries affirmed they knew of no other sermon so well adapted to secure the conversion of educated Hindus, Buddhists and Mohammedans. Men stand daily on a bridge which connects two cities of India and distribute these sermons to those who cross the bridge.

Few preachers in any country or century have had a sermon so widely translated and distributed as is this sermon by Dr. MacArthur.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock he will preach on "The Bellows are Burned." The text which he selects as the basis of this sermon is the only instance in the entire Bible where the word "bellows" is used.

Presbyterian churches and Sunday-schools are planning to send delegations of young people to summer conferences in Los Angeles and elsewhere, at which they will receive intensive training as crusaders in the Presbyterians' new era movement campaign to solve the critical community problems arising from the war. The conferences are designed as training camps to officer the large army of Presbyterian soldiers who have re-enlisted for world work as Comrades of the New Era. The expenses of the young people will be borne by their individual churches. The conference in this city will be held August 4 to 10. CAMPAIGN BEGUN.
JEWISH BIBLE SOCIETY.

Rabbi Louis Harrison of Worcester, Mass., linguist and Bible scholar of note in the Jewish world, began in Los Angeles, yesterday, a campaign for the American Jewish Bible Society, a national organization, that will have as its first object the publication of the Old Testament with parallel texts in English, Yiddish and the original Hebrew.

The necessary translation has already been completed by Rabbi Harrison, and the Book of Ecclesiastes has been printed in the three-text form.

A letter from Jacob Z. Kauterbach, a professor at the Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, to Rabbi Harrison, says:

"There are millions of our people to whom the Bible is a book with seven seals. They do not know the Hebrew, and a good translation into Yiddish, the only language they do understand, was not offered to them. Therefore, you deserve the greatest commendation in offering them such a translation now and everyone ought to assist in the publication of this work." While here, Rabbi Harrison is staying at 434 Centennial street. He will leave for the East in about two weeks.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Peace News Stimulates; Stocks Boom; Eastern Money Coming.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

News of the probable early signing of the peace pact by the German envoys and the indication that the long period of anxiety was about to end had a most stimulating effect upon business, investments and finances. The atmosphere seemed to clear even as the news was being announced and one could almost hear the scolding of the gears as they were shifted from intermediate into high. The stock market, already rolling bank full stiffened towards the close of the day; call money eased off, and the prediction was made in many a conference corner that America was all set for the greatest constructive era in her history. Los Angeles had discounted in large measure the effect of the announcement, but in spite of the fact that it was only the happening of the expected it had a notably cheering effect. Bond men were particularly jubilant for they saw in the loosening of the government's grasp upon the public purse through the cessation of great war expenditures the early bringing out of corporate enterprises which have been held in leash over against the happy day of the furled battle flag, while of municipal issues there appears to be no end. Government securities promptly reacted to the news, and this phase will be more apparent today when the market has had an opportunity to digest its import. Much of exurberance and prophecy which are apropos of the ending of the war have already been expended, but to the extremely satisfactory condition already existant there was added a stable touch, and a feeling of certainty which gave a firm foundation for the marching legions of the grand army of peace.

The Stock Market.

There is coming to be a sameness about the daily market summary as applied to local listings, yet there is nothing commonplace in the great volume of business which is being transacted daily on the Los Angeles floor and which in proportion is as marvelous as the Million-share, days which have become the rule on the New York exchange. Yesterday the market was very strong with oils maintaining the lead they have taken in the past few weeks. Union oil continued its spectacular climb and for the third time in as many days registered a new high, the stock selling at $153.25. One block of General Petroleum, preferred, aggregating 470 shares sold at $102. All through the oil list there was exceptionally heavy trading with prices all tending upward. There is no apparent end to this condition although the inevitable reaction is found to be lurking somewhere in the offing. Yesterday the trading was in heavy volume and the exchange record in shares and money was threatened. All of the industrial stocks were strong and active only the mines being overshadowed by the other lists. These were weak, with trading scattered and light. Just at present the public seems to have discarded the familiar, prosaic gold brick for the newer, and for the nonce, more romantic and active oils and industrials. Government bonds were strong in price, but the tendency locally is to hold on to these securities for better price.

Lesson in Efficiency.

One Los Angeles bank, has been experimenting in a little lesson in efficiency, and so successful has been the experiment that saving of several hundred dollars is reported. We are all familiar with the convenient pads of deposit slips which are generously strewn about the counters of every bank, a silent reminder that now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their bank account and deposit a dollar or two. These pads are very convenient for memoranda and hundreds of thousands of the slips, which are always printed on a good grade of paper, found their way into the pockets of customers or the pockets of casual visitors in need of equipment of this character. By the simple expedient of refraining to pad these slips the institution has been enabled to cut their absorption very materially and to effect a saving in printing and conservation that is well worth while. At the same time the customer has the same access to the slip, but the tablet hound is foiled, for a group of loose leaves in one's pockets is decidedly messy.

An Attractive Offering.

Stephens & Co. is offering a $750,000 issue of the Paraffine Companies, Inc., 6 per cent. first closed mortgage serial bonds, maturing from February 1, 1921, to February 1, 1938. This issue takes the place of a series of 7 per cent. notes which have been recalled at 101, the financing now being practicable upon a 6 per cent. basis. Some idea of the merit of the offering is indicated, according to Stephens & Co., by the fact that the net earnings for the calendar year of 1918 were not only about fourteen times bond interest requirements, but was actualy 80 per cent. of the total bond issue.

A Horrific Outlook.

Ran across Andrew M. Chaffey at his luncheon club yesterday pondering deeply a reveiation he had just received, apparently in his official capacity as president of the Home Savings Bank. According to Mr. Chaffey's postal card "control," Southern California is in for the very dickens of a time, and he couldn't really see much use in going ahead with the progressive plans he has been making for his bank. If the banker's correspondent has the right "dope," this fair detail of nature is about to be "buried amid rubbish, wreck and ruin." As though that were not enough, a "killing frost" was set for June 20. This

PRODUCE PRICES UP ON LOCAL EXCHANGE.

CANTALOUPES RULE STEADY; BERRY PRICES STRONG; CHERRIES ADVANCE.

The local produce market ruled firm yesterday and most commodities moved readily with the exception of a few vegetables and fruits which arrived in very poor condition caused by the exceptionally warm weather. Lettuce suffered the heaviest losses. A large percentage of the stock offered was badly burned and dried up. Some of it was unfit for local consumption. Good stock moved at a big advance over Thursday's close owing to the fact that there was very little first-class lettuce to be had.

Cherries made a sharp advance owing to the local and also the increasing shipping demand for stock from this market. Wholesalers say the stock is arriving in better condition than in previous season. The fruit was plentiful but prices on all grades of oherries are expected to advance still higher.

Cantaloupes were in fairly good demand and prices held about steady. The arrivals were not of good quality, fluctuating the past week and prices made a fractional decline. The stock was very soft and there was a good deal of waste. Watermelon arrivals were in first-class condition but there was a heavy oversupply in evidence throughout the entire season. Late in the afternoon prices made a sharp decline of from 1 to 2 cents per pound. All the fruit which was very irregular, suffered a further drop at the close of the call.

Apple arrivals during the past week show considerable improvement over the previous week and prices continue to rule about steady. Most of the stock available is of very poor quality, a large quantity of it very small and green. Demand is moving slowly but wholesalers predict a good demand and a better quality soon.

All varieties of berries enjoyed a share of yesterday's prosperity and prices for same were advanced, although first-class offerings were hard to find on the street. Homegrown berries were fairly bought and dried fruit retail dealers professed to bid on anything but good stock. Prices dian put in an appearance near the close of the session and bought most all the leftover fruits and vegetables.

Receipts yesterday were: Eggs, 198 cases; eastern eggs, 400 cases; butter, 18,000 pounds; eastern, 24,000 pounds; cheese, 1,000 pounds; northern cheese, 10,800 pounds; onions, 320 sacks.

PEACE RUMORS AFFECT CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CORN IS CARRIED UPWARD TO NEW HIGH MARKS; LATER COMES DOWN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, June 20.—Reports that Germany had signed the peace treaty started a buying movement that carried prices up to new high marks for corn, but claims that a Decatur starch industry was resting, induced selling that resulted in a quick break at the last. The market acted strained and sliding trades were at prices unchanged to ⅛@⅜ cent lower, the latter on December.

Corn in Kansas City closed 1¼ cents higher for July and ¾ cent lower for September. Oats there were ⅛ cent lower to ⅛ cent higher. At Minneapolis oats closed ⅛ to ⅜ cent lower. Winnipeg was ⅛ cent lower to ⅛ cent higher. Rye futures in Minneapolis closed unchanged to ¾ cent lower and barley ⅜@⅝ cent lower.

Cash corn and futures followed the late high figures on the new but the high figures were not maintained the finish being well toward the low point on both.

Trade was rather light early, but there was the same persistent buying on the dips by commission houses with country connections which have been such a factor in advancing prices of late.

Oats held above the previous day's finish until just before the close when general selling by the professional element on the bears carried values off sharply, and final trades were at the bottom.

CHICAGO, June 20.—Cash sales: Corn, No. 3 yellow, 1.83@1.84; No. 4 yellow, 1.82½; No. 5 yellow, 1.81. Rye, No. 2, 1.51¼. Barley, 1.17@1.32. Timothy, 9.00@13.00. Clover nominal.

LAST WEEK SPELTER ACTIVITY SUBSIDES.

THIS HAS CAUSED MARKET TO EASE OFF FIVE POINTS FROM HIGH LEVEL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DENVER, June 20.—According to New York advices the marked activity at the close of last week in the spelter market has somewhat subsided, the interests lately most prominent in the buying being now apparently content to keep on for the present. This has caused the market to ease off about 5 points from the high level; 8.50 was paid for June, 8.65 for July and 8.70 for August, but sales are current at 8.75 for July and August at 8.75 per 100 pounds. There is still very little spelter offering from producers, the slackening in the demand is not as yet accompanied by eagerness on the part of sellers. There are reports of labor troubles at smelters in the Missouri West and in the Far West and labor is reported scarce, the drift to the harvest fields generally beginning about this time of the year.

Walker's weekly copper letter says that it appears that sales of copper in May amounted to 210,000,000 pounds, exceeding the combined production and imports of the month by more than 75,000,000 pounds. Although there was only a moderate export movement in May this authority believes consumers are taking more interest in the market and probably will become heavy buyers not later than August or September."

Bar silver remains steady to stronger. There has been a constant demand from buyers outside the London markets, principally from the China banks, combined with orders from Scandinavian and South American countries.

New silver, 1.12⅞; Mexican dollars, 17¼@18; lead, 6.40; spelter, 8.50; tungsten, per unit, 7.50@10.00.

FLAXSEED MARKET IN THE NORTHWEST.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MINNEAPOLIS, June 20.—Flax: Rains improved the flax crop in the western part of North Dakota and Eastern Montana. In the district of Bismarck, in North Dakota, there may be a slight reduction in acreage from the early estimate, owing to the prolonged dry spell. In other sections of the Northwest the flax is thrifty but few advance reports are received.

WATER-POWER BILL IS PASSED BY SENATE.

The bill authorizing diversion of water from irrigation projects to industrial enterprises, if water supply is sufficient, passed the Senate and went to the House.

The administration measure for leasing water-power sites on navigable streams, public lands or public reserves was favorably reported today by the House joint water-power committee. The measure was passed by the House and Senate last session, but the Senate failed to take final action.

Omaha quotes a top for prime steers at 15.25 and Kansas City at 15.85.

Live hogs are weakening. A full 30-cent lower market is reported. The supply is a little greater than the demand.

While California choice lambs are scarce right at 15@15.50 owing to the shipments to eastern centers where higher prices were obtained reports from Arizona state that choice lambs are plentiful in that State and prices quoted for them are far below the local market.

Wethers and ewes are a very slow sale. The demand is extremely light.

THE WOOL MARKET: PRICES IN BOSTON.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 20.—So far as stock market could be said to have any direct propelling force behind it, that factor, greater interest continued in the trend of events in Washington, rather than in domestic affairs.

News of the resignation of the President's Cabinet were in circulation during the opening and are believed to have accounted for the early irregularity.

Although the turnover fell far short of the large total of recent sessions, issues were unusually active, showing a greater variety of interest, the steels, equipments and specialties, notably the food group, the motors and kindred accessories were less responsive to early moderate accumulation, but buying of these issues became more extensive in the very active final hour.

Investment rails were only moderately strong, interest and activity in transportations centering around minor shares, particularly Texas and Pacific, which made a gross advance of 9 points to the highest level since reorganization. Sales amounted to 1,300,000 shares.

Foreign bonds failed to reflect reported political changes abroad and domestic issues, including the Liberty division, were generally steady. Total sales, par value, aggregated $8,400,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

DOLLAR AN OUNCE SILVER FOR 7 YEARS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

RENO (Nev.) June 20. — That the price of silver will not fall below $1 per ounce in less than seven years, and probably not for several years later than that, is the statement made here today by Raymond T. Baker, director of the United States mint, who is en route to San Francisco for the annual accounting of the mint at that place.

Mr. Baker says that the probability of Congress repealing the Pittman silver bill is very remote.

COTTON MARKET HAS AN IRREGULAR TREND.

SENSATIONAL ADVANCE OF THE PRECEDING DAY FOLLOWED BY FLUCTUATIONS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 20.—Yesterday's sensational advance was followed by very nervous and irregular fluctuations in today's early cotton market. The weather map was favorable, but Liverpool made a firm showing and reports from the goods trade were bullish. The opening was steady at a decline of 28 points to an advance of 6 points, with July selling up to 32.15 and October to 31.75 during the early trading.

Reports that the German Cabinet had fallen caused a sharp advance. Before midday July had sold at 52 net higher, while October touched 31 points above last night's close, with all the new crop months making new high records.

There was heavy realizing around 32.45 for October, which sold off to 31.75.

A New York house estimates the reduction is acreage at 7.45 per cent, making the acreage planted 34,645,836, against 41,107,429 last year.

NEW YORK, June 20.—The market for spot cotton was quiet at 33.15 cents for middling upland, 45 points decline. Sales nil.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW.

happened to be yesterday, and the frost was evidently postponed on account of the weather. On the 26th there is to be a "spilling of blood," and on the 30th an earthquake which is to tip the earth on end, and cause "automobiles to skid eastward with brakes on." The banker admitted that this will be a most improper way for automobiles to behave, but he was absolutely appalled at the further prediction of a "thunder clap, leaving in its wake a freakish, mystic, pinkish veil." This being the nation's last wet day, he admitted the possibility of the "mystic pinkish veil," and he thinks that the autos' skid to eastward may be explained on the same hypothesis. "Probably towards Vernon," was his comment.

Informal Sales.

There was an interesting informal movement in stocks yesterday, several important transactions being consummated off-board. Among these was the moving of 100 Associated Oil at $88.62½; 200 California Packing, common, at $69.37½; thirty General Petroleum at $164; 2000 Nellie Mining, at 9 cents; ten Southern California Edison, common, at $89; 5000 United Oil, at 59½ cents; thirty Union Oil, at $153; five Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, at $295; eighty-five Union Sugar at $41, and $20,000 worth of Fourth Liberty Bonds at $95.22 and $94.37½. For the most part these prices ranged closer to the board quotations. A block of Globe Grain and Milling, preferred, sold at $104, a new high for this offering.

Eastern Money Coming.

There is a very distinct tide of money coming to Los Angeles as a result of the increasing number of people who have made their homes here. "We call June the 'money-moving month,'" said George M. Wallace, assistant cashier of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, yesterday. "July 1, all over the United States, term savings accounts mature, and can be removed with no loss of interest. So, through June, we receive collections from people who have moved here, and who want to bring their money from the savings banks back east. The banks here pay 4 per cent. on time deposits, as against 3 or 3½ per cent. In most of the eastern cities. By arranging in June, we can have the account transferred to one of our eastern correspondents when the interest term is completed. This saves both time and loss of interest. We usually have a considerable volume of these collections in June, but this year we have an extraordinarily large number. Millions of dollars, apparently, are being moved from eastern savings banks to Los Angeles, where it will become a part of the great fund of money which is employed in the building up of this city and community."

Business Expansion.

The financial district is soon to have a new, modern and commodious board room. It will be a part of the equipment which will house the A. W. Coote brokerage house and will occupy the entire second floor of the building at 614 South Spring street, in July.

Nickels and Dimes.

That there is still a modicum of profit to be extracted from the lowly nickel and dime is evidenced by the report of the Woolworth stores, which shows that business in the first five months of 1919 showed a gain of $5,500,000 over the corresponding period of 1918. If this is maintained the gross sales for 1919 should reach $120,000,000. The market for the class of merchandise handled by these stores of which Los Angeles has two of the 1056 in operation throughout the country is said to be much easier than it was six months ago. H. T. Parson has been elected president of the company to succeed the late founder of the business. The policy of the company is to remain unchanged, according to the new head.

H. C. of L. Here to Stay.

Los Angeles bankers and business men with whom I talked yesterday are unanimously of the opinion that we need look for no material reduction in the high cost of living. These men say that a survey of the field of labor, production and export precludes any other opinion. High taxation and increased cost of labor are two prime factors in these expressions. This is in line with the opinions of leaders throughout the United States invited by the Department of Labor to reply to the question "will prices fall?"

More Foreign Bonds.

Following the successful flotation of $25,000,000 worth of Swedish government bonds in this country it is now announced that Spain is soon to offer a $300,000,000 loan, a portion of which will find its way to the United States. This is a refunding issue bearing 4 per cent. to refund the present Spanish treasury debt. The Bank of Spain will negotiate the loan which will be offered at 75½ per cent. of normal value.

BRADSTREETS' WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Bradstreets says: Activity in demand, strength of pay and optimism as to the outlook stand out moer clearly than at any previous date since the armistice. As to the first, it might be said that the list of things sought is a virtual roll call of the country's products, with articles of wearing apparel and luxuries most wanted, and the chief concern expressed being as to deliveries of goods, with prices to be paid a secondary matter. Even the great industrial lines that have hitherto lagged—iron, steel and, to a lesser extent, coal—show buying increasing and output enlarging. Bank clearings, $8,657,568,000, a gain of 10 per cent. over last week.

NEWLYWEDS IN NET OF CRIME.

More Burglaries are Laid at Couple's Door.

Officers Hunting Owners of Rich, Varied Loot.

Young Husband Silent, Wife Says He's Innocent.

While Detective Sergts. Blue and Moore yesterday were unearthing case after case laid at the door of John J. Shelton, 19 year of age, and his bride of a few months, Grace Shelton, 21, arrested on charges of burglary Thursday, the prisoners refused to discuss the accusations against them, except that Mrs. Shelton not only denied knowledge of her husband's alleged violations of the law, but declared he is innocent of all the charges.

The youthful couple, that came to this city from Heber, Imperial Valley, June 2, plunged at once into crime, according to the police, and in their short residence in this city entered and looted scores of houses in the best residence districts. The police say Shelton was accompanied by his wife part of the time but as a rule "worked" alone.

When the two were arrested and their rooms in an exclusive Westlake apartment houses searched, the police declare, a large amount of loot was found hidden in several trunks. The jewelry and clothing found, according to the police, are valued at many thousands of dollars.

Questioned by Detectives Blue and Moore, Shelton refused to make any statement but instructed the officers to call upon his attorney. Mrs. Shelton, however, stated it would have been impossible for her husband to have burglarized the residences said to have been entered by him, as he was with her most of the time.

The police say several days will be required by them to trace all the recovered loot, to connect the prisoners with all the "jobs" they are alleged to have had a part in during the past month.

Efforts will be made today to identify a quantity of the loot now at the Central Police Station.

DAUGHTER HER ACCUSER.

Mrs. Hilda Brink, accused of contributing to the delinquency of her daughter, Loretta, aged 15, will appear for trial before Judge Willis on August 8. The complaint charges that the mother enticed the girl to meet Mack Rowe and several other men.

FINANCE HEAD IS BANKRUPT.

Santa Monica Commissioner Owes Much and has Very Little in Assets.

Frank J. Townsend, who is Commissioner of Finance of Santa Monica, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court, yesterday, giving his debts as $8189.48, and his assets as $6500. Of the latter $5300 is in the alleged value of his real estate, and $1200 is claimed to be exempt.

Henry T. Desmond, a farmer of Fairmead, Madera county, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the same court, yesterday. He gave his debts as $13,153.55, of which $7437.17 is unsecured. His assets are alleged to be $5700, of which $1200 is claimed to be exempt under the law.

NOT A PARTISAN ISSUE, HE SAYS.

Democratic Head Extols the League of Nations.

If We Want that Convention Must Apply, He States.

Sees Reconstruction as Next Campaign Issue.

Eight members of the National Democratic Committee arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning, spent a few hours hobnobbing with leaders of the local Bourbons, and then hied themselves to the Grand Canyon for a brief visit.

In the party are Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the committee; Wilbur W. Marsh of Iowa, treasurer; S. Bruce Kremer of Montana, first vice-chairman; E. G. Hoffman of Indiana, secretary; W. D. Jamieson of Mississippi, executive secretary; S. B. Amidon of Kansas, second vice-chairman; Mrs. George Bass of Chicago, director of the woman's bureau.

Informal conferences were held with local Democrats at the Alexandria by Mr. Cummings and some other members of the visiting party, while others took the opportunity for brief auto rides around the city before the luncheon.

Chairman Cummings, in discussing the object of the present swing around the circle said:

"We have three outstanding objects in making this visit to the various sections of the United States. The first is to secure closer co-operation between the State and national Democratic committees. The second is to come in touch more closely with the sentiment of the various States and their particular needs, and the third is to discuss public issues, achievements of the administration, and the necessity of the general American public sustaining the League of Nations.

THEIR ITINERARY.

"We left New York, May 27, and have visited Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Albuquerque, Denver, Provo, Salt Lake City and Ogden, Reno and San Francisco. After a short trip to the Grand Canyon we shall return to Los Angeles for a three days' stay. Then we shall go to San Francisco and on to cities of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Nebraska and Iowa, where our present itinerary will end.

"It is probable that the matter of the National Democratic Convention city will be decided in December, or possibly January. San Francisco, is definitely a candidate, and if Los Angeles is serious in its desire to be a candidate for the convention, I would suggest that it get its committee together immediately and send in a preliminary statement, and ask that there be no commitment to any location until it is given a full hearing."

Regarding a press dispatch from Washington, yesterday, which stated that Senator Thomas of Colorado deplored the statement of Mr. Cummings that the League of Nations is a partisan issue, Mr. Cummings said:

"I regret that Senator Thomas has been misled by erroneous reports or misquotations of my statements. At no time have I ever said that the League of Nations is a partisan issue. On the contrary, I have maintained it is not a partisan issue and that I hoped t would not become one.'

PACT IS ESSENTIAL.

"I still retain the hope that the leadership of the Republican party will see the wisdom of uniting with the President and his supporters in making effective the League of Nations, that is so essential to our American honor and the peace of the world. I am sending a telegram to this effect today to Senator Thomas.

"Provided that the League of Nations is not made a partisan issue, the big issues of the Presidential campaign, in my judgment, will grow out of or center about reconstruction plans and leadership.

"People will have to choose between the reactionary leadership that appears to be in the ascendency in the Republican party and the type of statesmanship represented by President Wilson and the leaders of the Democratic party. The people will have to judge of the future on the basis of the past. The people will be asked to pass upon the great progressive measures that have been instituted under the Democratic administration—the Federal Reserve, the farm loan banks, etc., and upon the war measures which were the means of winning the war in a period so brief, and with loss of life so small, that it astonished the military critics of all nations.

"It does not disturb us in the least that the Republican leaders are attacking any of these measures. The Republican party is moving backwards, and no party that is moving backward can hope to have the support of the great forward-looking people of America."

When asked specifically as to the prospects of readjustment of the tariff to meet post-war conditions, Mr. Cummings said:

"The President has fully answered these questions."

Mr. Cummings had no statement to make as to prospective candidates for the Democratic nomination.

After an informal luncheon at the Alexandria, with about a score of local Democrats, the party took the 1 o'clock train for the Grand Canyon, and will return here on the 25th inst., for a three days' stay.

ROUTING THE INSECT PESTS.

All About the Garden Bugs in the Farm Section of Sunday's "Times."

How to get rid of the pesky bugs is a question that is just now agitating many gardeners and fruit growers. The ambitious gardener arises early in the morning, wears blisters in his hands, works into the twilight hours and regales the family from morning until night telling about the vegetables he is going to have. Then along come a lot of bugs that haven't done a tap of work to get things growing and insist on sharing the product. Beating the bugs to it is the theme of an interesting and valuable article in tomorrow's Farm and Tractor Section of The Times. Every gardener and fruit grower with this kind of a problem on his hands will find this the article he has been looking for.

The time while the young trees are getting a start toward bearing is a period of financial worry for the average orchard planter. A business man who planted a tract up in the Poplar district didn't look at the thing that way. He worked out a plan whereby he made his ground "kick through" with profits from the beginning. He made the tract plant itself. This is one of the good things in tomorrow's farm department.

Another is an article on a great San Diego county Guernsey herd that has achieved fame throughout the country. This herd has won championships at one important stock show after another and has enviable records for production. There is always a reason for this kind of success in any form of agricultural production and that reason makes interesting reading for the practical farmer. Don't miss the story on the Edgemoor Farm in tomorrow's big "Tractor" section.

PROVE 'FORGERY' TO BE GENUINE.

Handwriting "Science" Put on Sizzling Grill.

Sensational Case Ended on its Third Trial.

Woman, Twice a Loser, Wins Valuable Property.

After three trials, the sensational litigation between Mrs. Georgiana K. Hill and Mrs. Ella F. Morgan, involving the ownership of a lot at Third street and Beaudry avenue now valued at about $20,000, resulted in a decision by Judge Shenk yesterday in favor of Mrs. Morgan.

Conflicting testimony by "handwriting experts," regarding the genuineness of an indorsement on a check, was an outstanding feature of the last trial. A statement by Milton Carlson, called as an expert to testify in behalf of Mrs. Hill, that opinions about the signature were based on an "exact science," called forth caustic comment by the court. This sort of "science," said Judge Shenk, in declaring the signature genuine, had in this case bumped its head against a fact.

The action was first tried by Judge J. E. Barber of Shasta county in July, 1917, sitting as an extra judge in the local courts, and he gave judgment in favor of Mrs. Hill. Attorney Harry K. Sargent, formerly of Portland, Or., now located in Los Angeles, moved in behalf of Mrs. Morgan for a new trial in February, 1918. The motion was granted by Judge Jackson. Judge Wellborn presided at the second trial last November and again a judgment was given in favor of Mrs. Hill.

FIGHT REOPENED.

On the motion of Attorney Sargent, Judge Wellborn set aside his decision, ordering a third trial which was set in Judge Shenk's department. A bitter legal fight of nine days resulted.

Mrs. Hill contended that she was the absolute owner of the Third-street property, denying that Mrs. Morgan ever had any interest in it. Mrs. Morgan claimed that in January, 1906, she jointly with L. R. Hill, the deceased husband of Mrs. Hill, purchased the lot from Frank Walker and wife for $10,000 cash, Mrs. Morgan furnishing half of the purchase price.

Mrs. Morgan put in evidence her cancelled check on the Security Savings Bank for $5000, dated January 31, 1906, payable to the order of L. R. Hill, the check bearing the indorsement "L. R. Hill." It was stamped and punched "Paid" by the paying bank.

Mr. Hill's account in the First National Bank shows that on February 6, 1906, he deposited $5000. The deed from Mr. and Mrs. Walker to Mr. Hill is dated February 7, 1906. The question was raised that the indorsement on the $5000 check was a forgery. Mr. Hill died October 18, 1914. Nearly 100 genuine signatures of L. R. Hill were put in evidence for comparisons.

OPINIONS CONFLICT.

Mr. Carlson and four bank tellers, called in behalf of Mrs. Hill, gave as their opinion that the indorsement on the back of the check was not in Mr. Hill's handwriting. Attorney Sargent, for the defendant, called I. N. Inskeep, handwriting expert, and three bank men who said that in their opinion the signature was genuine.

Mr. Sargent's cross-examination of Mr. Carlson is said by the court attendants to have been the most fiery they ever heard. Mr. Sargent began in a gentle way, asking Mr. Carlson if he did not think an opinion of the genuineness of signatures based solely on comparison was largely a guess, leading the witness to say that such opinions were based on an "exact science."

Court Stenographer Petermichael humped his back in an effort to keep pace with the rapid-fire cross-examination, that preceded Judge Shenk's comment.

Signatures in Hill Case.

CANNOT PROVE IT BOTH WAYS AT ONCE.

KERN JURIST'S DECISION IN ABSTRUSE CASE AFFIRMED BY APPEAL COURT.

Word that in the appeal of Carl A. Walberg, individually and in behalf of certain stockholders, against Charles D. Underwood, Robert A. Brown and the Valley View Mines Company, the District Court of Appeal had confirmed the finding in favor of the defendants, affirming the judgment of Superior Judge M. F. Farmer of Kern county, was received here yesterday.

The suit was brought to enjoin the execution, and to set aside a judgment of defendant, Underwood, who had assigned claim of Robert A. Brown, as a director and president of the corporation, amounting to $19,005. This he alleged, was obtained by collusion and fraud on the part of Underwood and Brown and the directors of the company. The lower court held there was no proof of collusion and fraud, and gave judgment against the present plaintiffs.

After the judgment was secured, Brown, as assignor of the claim, attempted to make a sale of the property, and it was charged that he reported the transfer of the property for $50,000, when, as a matter of fact, the purchase price was $150,000, according to the allegations of the bill. Later on the sale was stopped by court proceedings.

In deciding the case, Judge W. H. Sloane, who wrote the opinion, declared: "A defendant cannot be convicted of two independent offenses, even though occurring against the same person and at approximately the same time, by proving him guilty of one and inferring his guilt of the other. This would be equivalent to offering evidence of bad reputation for honesty and integrity as proof that he had committed some specific wrong. It is not permissible to establish fraud in a prior transaction, which was honest on its face, by showing fraud in subsequent transactions."

PLUMBING ORDINANCE APPROVED BY MAYOR.

Yesterday was the last day in which Mayor Woodman could send to the Council his veto on the ordinance regulating matters of plumbing, recently adopted by the Council, and which the Mayor held up for fear it contained provisions that might be interpreted to prevent the general householders from making simple plumbing repairs.

As Mayor Woodman was absent from his office yesterday the ordinance, to which he had previously attached his signature, was sent by his secretary to the City Clerk for publication. Councilman Reeves, who promoted the passage of the ordinance, declares that it permits the householder to make simple repairs on plumbing, but it is probable that a test case in the courts will be required to settle the question.

NEED MORE WATER,

Glendale, Burbank and Verdugo Canyon Seek Annexation.

West Lankershim, which was recently annexed to Los Angeles, is in hard straits for an adequate water supply, and yesterday a number of its citizens appealed to the Board of Public Service Commissioners for at least temporary aid. An offer was made to turn over to the city, free of charge, the West Lankershim water distributing system, if connections with the city system can be made. The subject was referred to Chief Engineer Mulholland for his recommendation.

A communication was received also from the Municipal Annexation Commission, stating that citizens of Glendale are discussing a movement for annexation to Los Angeles, and have asked for definite information on various pertinent points. The Public Service Department was asked to give definite information as to what would be water, light and power rates for Glendale, in case of annexation. It was also asked to give this and other information regarding Burbank and the Verduzo Canyon district, where, it was said, annexation projects are also under consideration. Full replies to the questions asked will be forwarded to the Annexation Commission.

CITY LOSES MUCH.

That's Reason You'll Have to Report it When You Hit a Pole.

It developed yesterday that the initial move to secure a wider scope for the ordinance requiring reports on accidents, so that collisions with poles, lighting posts, ornamental trees, etc., must also be reported in writing by the person responsible for the collision, was made by John T. Martin, right of way and land agent of the Public Service Department.

Mr. Martin stated yesterday that the damages resulting from broken hydrants, electric light posts, etc., caused by careless driving of automobiles, and on which reports have not been made, has ranged from $3000 to $4000 a year, and that it was determined that steps should be taken to place the responsibility, and make it a penal offense to fail to report such accidents.

IN A GOOD CAUSE.

Large Sum is Turned Over to Salvation Army for Local Work.

Brig. C. R. Boyd, division officer of the Salvation Army, yesterday announced the receipt of $155,005.17 from the business men's committee in charge of the recent home service campaign, headed by Harry M. Haldeman, and the official termination of the organization's local money-raising activities, which were a part of the nation-wide refinancing plan. The books were closed June 17.

The sum received included contributions from all sources, although the original amount allotted to Los Angeles in the drive was $265,000. There is still due $14,269.34 in unpaid pledges, according to Brig. Boyd's announcement, and those whose pledges are delinquent have been sent notices to this effect. When they have been paid there will have been $169,274.51 available for the work of the army in this city during the present year, Brig. Boyd said:

"The generosity of local citizens has provided sufficient money to finance the activities of the local corps and for all of the general relief work of the army in Los Angeles. The hotel for workingmen and Salvation Army center will be constructed as soon as the necessary funds can be secured from other sources."

SETS TRIAL DATE FOR CANCER "CURER."

A plea of not guilty was entered yesterday in the court of Judge Willis by M. M. Winchell, cancer cure operator, accused of involuntary manslaughter of Mrs. Nettie E. Daniels of Santa Monica. The trial was set for August 18. Mrs. Daniels died a few minutes after Winchell's alleged cancer cure was injected into her arm.
